Note from the Editor

Wow, what a year it has been! I feel like just yesterday, we were all sitting down for our first day of the 2014-2015 school year, excited for all the year had to offer us... It sure did not disappoint! This year was a truly spectacular one for Loretto High School. We started new clubs, formed new organizations, broke school records, and worked together to support charities. The most beautiful thing about Loretto High School, to me, is how quickly we all band together to get things done, help those in need, or support one another. We are so lucky to go to school with such caring students and faculty... perhaps this is why we chose the title of "LHS All Hail" for this year's yearbook. But it was not just the theme of the yearbook- it was the theme of the year. Everywhere I turned this year, I saw students showing pride in Loretto High School. You guys definitely showed me how special being a Mustang can be. It was a privilege being your editor this year, and I hope you enjoy the book!

5. Emily and her family pile on the bed for a photo. You can tell they really love each other.

Team Emily

Dear LHS Students and Faculty,

When I first got sick, the only thing on my mind was getting better so I would be able to start high school. When I found out God had another plan for me, I was beyond devastated and scared everyone would forget me. To say in the least, I was shocked by the amazing support, prayers, and love I received in the past year. You guys had my back from the beginning. When I would be upset about the whole situation, I'd see all the positive things that people were doing for me. I had hundreds of messages and letters telling me how many people were praying for me, and it helped me get through my treatments. The money that people raised through many different fundraisers was absolutely incredible. I knew that I had an army of people backing me 110 percent. I'm so blessed to have such great friends and family who supported me completely. One of my favorite things was the Play for Emily game. The number of people that came to that game wearing a shirt with my name on it was more than overwhelming. I really loved getting to see all of you guys and getting to watch the game online. But the best thing was getting to see all the messages y'all recorded for me. I realized what all I had to come home to. You guys helped me through a pretty dark and extremely scary time, and for that I'm forever thankful. Just remember: Life is ten percent what happens to you and ninety percent how you respond to it, Lou Holtz. I love you guys!

Lots of Love,
Emily Marks

1. Seniors Karlee Cole and Caroline Methvin dress up as Pedro Sanchez and Napolean Dynamite. They were a big hit!

2. Baylee Allen dresses up as the Tin Man from the movie The Wizard of Oz. She shined and sparkled like she was really made of tin.

3. A group of junior boys dress up as The Ghostbusters. Their costumes were very impressive.

4. Juniors Kelby Luffman, Hannah Huntley, and Brenna Benson dress up as characters from the movie Pinocchio. It is no lie, Pinocchio and friends won best dressed on Monday!

5. The volleyball team dresses up as the Average Joe's and the Purple Cobra's from the movie Dodgeball. It was a very clever idea.

6. A group of freshman gather together to take a picture during the best dressed competition. They went all out for their first homecoming dress up day.

7. A group of teachers dress up as characters from Peanuts. The Cool Teacher Corner always have the most creative costumes.

Movie Monday

What a way to start off homecoming week! On Monday, students dressed up as characters from their favorite movies. From old classics to modern hits, and as far back as the Wizard of Oz and Pinocchio to Frozen, there were all kinds of characters! Students had great ideas and were very creative with their costumes. Senior Tanner Keeton said, "Everyone's outfits were rich." Even a few teachers dressed up as their favorite characters! There were many movie themed games played that got a variety of students involved, but the perfect way to celebrate Movie Monday would have been to watch movies all day, right?

Tropical Tuesday

On the Tuesday of homecoming week, everyone decked out in their best beach wear. From pirates to mermaids, and hula girls to beach bums, this day had it all! The student participation was very high, but who does not enjoy an excuse to wear swim trunks and sandals all day? This day was packed full of beach wear at its finest. Some students even brought in floaties, lawn chairs, and surf boards. With the costumes so elaborate, you could almost smell the ocean and taste the salt in the air. Freshman Bryce Tankersly said, "Tropical Tuesday was a very memorable and exciting day, and I look forward to it next year."

1. The best dressed of the freshman class pose for a picture. They let it all hang loose for their first homecoming.

2. A group of sophomores gather together to take a picture. They really enjoyed their second homecoming together.

3. The best dressed ladies of the junior class show off their impressive costumes. Being here three years, they knew how to bring their A game.

4. The best dressed seniors lay it all on the line with their exquisite costumes. Their attention to detail was incredible.

5. Some sophomore boys eagerly pose for a picture. They really showed their spirit on this day!

6. Junior girls excitedly strike a pose. They loved bringing out their leis and grass skirts!

7. Senior boys Ben Farrigton and Bryce Hannah channel their inner lifeguard and scan the crowd for danger. Safety was their number one priority!

1. A group of freshman get together to take a picture. They were waiting to be judged for best dressed.

2. Seniors Courtney King, Sydney Hallmark, and Kayley Allen dress up as indians and a cowgirl. They rocked Western Wednesday!

3. Sophomore Bobby Vaughn shows off his banjo skills during the homecoming games. He was a big hit!

4. Faith Smith and Taylor Hill strike a pose for a picture at the homecoming games. They looked great!

5. Sophomores Sloane Rhodes and Cainan Phillips pose together for a picture. They proved that cowgirls and indians really do get along.

6. Juniors Ashley Lamprecht, Courtney James, and Hope Lamprecht dress up as indians. They looked so cute!

7. Senior Luke Hood demonstrates how to ride a horse during the homecoming games. He did a great job!

Western Wednesday

Always wanted to be a cowboy or indian? Well, on the Wednesday of homecoming week, the students of Loretto High got to make that hard decision! Some went all out in authentic head dresses and their best warrior paint, but others put on their boots and cowboy hats and tired to rope and ride! Everyones outfits were great and the participation was outstanding! There were lots of fun games played in the gym where the students got to show off their crazy side!

Throwback Thursday

Talk about a blast from the past! On Thursday, the students dressed in clothes from a decade or time period of their choice. There were students from the 80's, 50's, 20's, and some even threw it all the way back to the Stone Age! Aside from the great costumes, the biggest hit of the day was the teacher decade dances. The faculty and staff gathered with others who graduated in the same decade to preform. Each decade lip synched to a smash-up of hits from their glory days. These teacher performances were a huge hit and got all the teachers involved. Senior, Courtney Hobbs, said "The seventies was the best decade by far!" All of the students thought Throwback Thursday was a lot of fun, and it was a huge success!

1. Senior Karlee Cole throws it back to the 50's. She looked fabulous and completed her outfit with real glasses from the 50's.

2. As the group of teachers that graduated in the 90's breaks it down, Coach Boyd reps with "Ritter" written across his back. This was a huge hit and definitely gave everyone a laugh.

3. Freshmen Olivia Chadwell advocates "Love Not War" as she throws back to the 70's. She did a great job with her outfit for her first high school homecoming week!

4. Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Pennington dress up as groupies from the 80's. As their decade performed their dance, they jumped, yelled, and pretended to be crazed fans.

5. A group of senior girls dress up as the cast from the movie The Breakfast Club. They did an amazing job with their outfits.

6. Senior boys Brandon Gillespie, Logan Nunley, Myles Burks, and Ben Farrington dress up as a basketball team from the 80's. They then proceeded to do warm up drills before the assembly started.

7. Sophmores Sara Beth Conley and Jesse White rock their outfits from the 50's. They made an adorable pair.

1. Members of the Junior Class smile for a picture with the spirit stick. They were thrilled when they won the spirit stick competition.

2. The freshmen class all gather together for a group photo. Relay games and class competitions made their first homecoming a great experience.

4.

3. Senior Ridge Mattox and Mrs. Pennington argue with the judges during the scavenger hunt. The seniors enjoyed arguing and trash talking.

4. Freshman Kirkland Surratt rushes to Mrs. Bitting during "Name That Tune." The game was an intense competition this year.

5. A group of seniors takes a memorable picture. Their senior homecoming was truly unforgettable.

Fanatic Friday

By the time Friday finally rolled around, the students of Loretto High were as full of school spirit as they could possibly be. Even though wearing swim shorts and cowboy hats was fun, everyone knew the real fun would come on Friday. Outfits ranged from simple LHS t-shirts to homemade puff-painted shirts, patterned leggings, and tutus. The day began with the annual scavenger hunt in the gym. The freshmen and seniors were close the entire competition, but the seniors eventually pulled ahead and won. The next activities took place outside on the practice field where students participated in various fun games including a food relay, Tug-O-War, and Name That Tune.

Students swelled with pride as the floats they had been working on all week rolled into the parking lot, and everyone rushed to put last minute touches on them before parade time. This year's parade was one of Loretto High's best. It featured the LHS Marching Band and Color Guard, all the beautiful homecoming attendants and their escorts, and four incredible floats. The theme of homecoming this year was "Mustang Pride," and from a giant throne room to a smoking bomb, the four floats exhibited this theme perfectly. Overall, the 2014 Homecoming was a spirit-filled week sure to stay with LHS students for the rest of their lives.

1. The freshmen's float featured an airplane with the slogan "Soaring to Victory." The float placed 3rd overall.

2. "Here Comes the Boom" blared as the sophomore float road through the parade carrying a smoking bomb. "Mustangs are the Bomb" was their slogan, and the float placed 4th overall.

3. "Where Pride Meets Passion" was the slogan of the junior float. It featured a giant 'M' and two goal posts, and it placed 4th overall.

4. The senior float won the float competition with their "All Hail LHS" theme. A horse wearing a crown and robe sat in a giant throne and dominated the float.

5. The sophomore boys prepare for a game of tug-o-war against one of the other classes. The boys enjoyed an opportunity to show off their strength.

6. The sophomore class cheers as they win a point during the scavenger hunt. This year's scavenger hunt was an close competition.

Winter Formal

This year's Winter-Wonderland-themed Winter Formal was held on December 13, 2014 from 8:00 p.m. - 11:00 p.m. It was a fun-filled dance that was overflowing with students from all grades.

Decorating for Winter Formal was quite a task. Students stayed after school to decorate the cafeteria with lights, snowflakes, trees, and everything else to make the perfect Winter Wonderland. However difficult it may be, the students and teachers always seem to pull it together beautifully.

As usual, the ladies of Loretto High School dressed to impress in their high heels and fabulous dresses. The gentlemen looked dapper in their bowties and blazers. Christina Frye and Gabby O'Brien loved this year's Winter Formal. They are extremely excited to attend the dance in the coming years. Winter Formal is sponsored by SGA, and it is a huge fundraiser for the club.

5. Theo Dehopere, Taylor Hill, Emma Harbison, Faith Smith, and Devin Boston all pose for an adorable picture together on the front of a train car. They had lots of fun taking pictures!

Wildest Dreams

This prom theme was Wildest Dreams, inspired by the oh so popular Taylor Swift. Ms. Jarnigan and all of the juniors and seniors worked very hard to turn the gym into an elegant prom venue. They had to create makeshift walls, hang a chandelier from the rafters, and create an entrance. Prom 2015 was held on April 18th. It started with promenade at 8 o'clock and ended at midnight. The stage for promenade was decorated with blue, gold, and silver creating a magical entrance for the seniors that participated in promenade. Parents gathered in the gym for promenade but as soon as it ended they cleared out to allow the students to dance the night away. Junior Sheyenne Hill said, "Prom was a very fun experience and I enjoyed a night out with my friends!" DJ Landon Davidson made the atmosphere fun and played everyone's favorite music. Prom this year was one that will always be remembered and was truly something of your wildest dreams!

Academics

Boeing-Boeing

This year, the fall semester theater class performed Boeing-Boeing, a laugh-out-loud, non-stop comedy by Mark Camoletti. Bernard, who lives in France, has three fiances, Gretchen, Gabriella, and Gloria, who are all air hostesses. Much to the annoyance of his very attractive and sassy maid, Berthe, Bernard's three women all end up visiting him in France at the same time.

Everyone had an important role in the play, whether it was sound, lighting, or just selling tickets. Under the direction of new theater teacher, Michael Goode, the class had a lot of fun putting together the play. Between all the the spit takes and goofing off, the cast and crew had a fantastic time. Senior Abigail Caldwell, who played Berthe, said, "This has been my favorite role to play so far." The audience thought so, too. The show opened with the school performances, and the room was full of laughter for the opening performance. The cast and crew enjoyed the play as much as the audience did.

1. Berthe and Gretchen hug it out. Riley Littrell brought a great dramatic performance to the character of Gretchen.

2. Bernard and Robert goof-off outside rehearsal. Tobias Sweeney played Robert, a friend of Bernard's who is visiting from America.

3. The whole cast gathers together for a photo on set. Working with one another this semester was a lot of laughs.

4. Berthe wields her handy feather duster while the ladies have a seat on the couch. Abby Caldwell gave a dramatic, sassy performance.

5. Bernard and Robert pose in the living room of Bernard's flat in Paris. This room contained all the action.

6. The crew that works in the crew's nest get prepared for performance. These guys worked very hard behind-the-scenes.

7. Gretchen yells at Robert while he tries to help Bernard keep his secret. All the ridiculous lies added to the laughs.

8. In a hilarious turn of events, Robert wears a bra. Tobias' reactions to dealing with all the women in the play was one of the funniest things about the play.

You Can't Take It With You

This spring, the drama department performed You Can't Take It With You written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. This play is set in New York City in 1938. When the play begins, Alice Sycamore has become romantically involved with her boss's son Tony Kirby. The only problem is that Alice comes from a very eccentric family filled with play writing, ballet dancing, fireworks, and more. Their relationship is put to the test when Tony mistakenly brings his parents, who are overly proper, to dinner at the Sycamores' on the wrong night.

No part was more important than the other. Whether it was the cast or the crew backstage, the play could not have gone on without them. Abby Caldwell stated, "Getting to dance badly was the highlight of this play." The audience was fully engaged and full of laughter.

General Building

The GB program at Loretto is a great opportunity for high school students. It is a program where students learn about all the aspects of building a house while in school. First, they learn construction safety, and then the fall semester frames the house. Lastly, the spring semester adds the finishing touches to the house. When the boys have completed the course, they will have learned about all the stages of constructing a home.

This year, the class built a home for Mr. and Mrs. Kress. The house is 4,000 square feet, and it has five bedrooms and three bathrooms. Danny Niedergeses, Mr. N, has been the General Building teacher for twenty-two years now. The students like to take the class because, even if they do not get a job in construction, they learn skills that will benefit them in the future. To reward the boys for their hard work, each year Mr. N and his wife Kelly prepare a steak dinner for everyone. Mr. N's famous steak dinner is one of the best perks of taking General Building.

4. The GB class take a group picture on the front porch. All their hard work paid off.

1. The French students study vocabulary outside. It was a beautiful day to get out of the classroom.

2. Spanish II students party on Cinco De Mayo! They had a great time.

3 Juniors Jessie Mattox and Kiley Battles show off their Mardi Gras floats. They were very proud of all their hard work.

Foreign Languages

There are two different options for foreign language at Loretto High School. French, taught by Mrs. Amy Weaver, and Spanish, taught by Ms. Suzanne Reeves. Both Spanish and French require two semesters of class to complete the subject. While the purpose of the classes is to learn to read, write, and speak a foreign language, students also have a little fun with the customs and traditions associated with each language. In Spanish, the students participate in Cinco De Mayo, a traditional Mexican holiday. Each student brings his or her own style of Mexican food to share with the class. When asked about the celebration, Michaela Gunther said, "A lot of food... there was A LOT of food." In French, the students decorate their own Mardi Gras float in honor of the Mardi Gras tradition that takes place across France. Rosie Morris said, "I really enjoyed building my float for Mardi Gras. The glitter was the best part." Each subject is a wonderful learning experience that the students will benefit from for the rest of their lives.

1. Juniors Megan Truitt and Kylie Graves act out a play in French. They enjoyed each other's company throughout the year.

2. Senior foreign exchange student Aurelie Claes and junior Victoria Cain hug for a picture in Spanish. Aurelie will be missed when she returns to Belgium.

3. Junior Brenna Benson models a sombrero at the Cinco De Mayo party. She got her groove on dancing to the salsa.

4. Juniors Chloe Huntley and Kayleigh Chadwell pose for a picture with their sugar coated punch. The girls enjoyed their day at the Cinco De Mayo party.

1st time for everything!

It's freshman year. All of a sudden, the school and the people are unfamiliar. Everything is different- the routine, the people, the classes, and the system. The next four years could be miserable and go by slowly, or it could be the best four years ever. Freshman year is the time to set the tone for the next four years of your life. Freshman year is the time when you find out who your real friends are, start to hang out with new people, and develop friendships that will last forever. Bailey Urban said, "I really loved my freshman year. I have made new friends this year who I know will be life-long friends."

Freshman year is also a time to get involved and find a place at LHS. It is a time to develop commitment to a sport, try a new club, become dedicated to learning, and open up to new possibilities.

Calia Brown and Shyla Koons pose for a BFF picture in class. They even dressed as twinkies that day.

Kourtney Schultz and Julia Huntley take a picture together in their uniforms before a big game. It was a great year for the volleyball team, and the girls had a lot of fun.

Jenna Daniels and Hannah Neal take a picture together in the science hallway. They had a great first year at LHS.

5. A group of sophomores get together to take a picture. They were all enjoying the outdoor activities during Fanatic Friday of homecoming week.

Half Way There!

With two years down and two to go, the sophomores are caught right in the middle. The sophomores didn't give up this year, though! They participated in all the activities and really tried to be outgoing and get involved. As a sophomore, a student is given more freedom but still kept under close watch. They are making their way to the top but aren't quite there yet. Sophomore Hailey Killen said, "My sophomore year was great and I had a lot of fun, but I am definitely ready to be a junior!" All of the students are ready to be a little older and take on a bigger role at Loretto High School. The sophomores this year were a very close class. Everyone got along very well and tried to work together to help each other along the way through their second year in high school. The sophomores had a lot of school spirit this year as well. They all participated in the homecoming dress up days, cheered at all of the ball games, and became a part of several of the clubs. Even though the students in the sophomore class had to work hard and keep their grades up, they managed to have fun and make a lot of memories together that they will never forget!

With all of the testing and classes required, junior year is possibly the most stressful year of high school. However, it has also been a fun-filled year for this group of juniors. Between getting pumped with the MIAs and decorating for the junior/senior prom, the juniors have stepped it up. If they were not on the court or the field playing for the Mustangs, then they were in the stands getting rowdy and cheering on their teams. Junior class officer, Emma Sanders said, "The junior class has really grown closer together this year. We've had more school spirit than ever, and we're all looking forward to being seniors." With just one more year at LHS, this group promises to lead the school with lots and spirit next year.

Making Memories

The 2015 graduating class of Loretto High School has constantly set the bar high. This year's class was filled with school spirit and determination. Even though senior year can be a stressful time filling out scholarships and writing essays, in the end everything comes together. The experience of being a senior is something this group will never forget. The memories of senior year will live on in the minds of this year's class for many years to come. Winning spirit week during the football season was a fantastic way to kick off this year, and prom truly exceeded everyone's Wildest Dreams. Before you walk through the doors of LHS as a first time student, you will be told to enjoy your four years, to live those years to the fullest, and to not wish your time away by a countless amount of people. This year's class took advantage of their four years. Once graduation is over and people go their separate ways, they will still remember the joy of being a LHS Mustang. One thought will trot through the minds of this year's graduating class forever... LHS ALL HAIL!

Beta

The Loretto High School branch of the National Beta Club is always involved in several activities. They always kick off the year by collecting money for St. Jude and then have their induction for their new members. They also sold shamrocks for a dollar and all of the proceeds went to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. Junior Kayleigh Chadwell said, "It was an honor to be asked to be in the Beta club." All of the students have worked very hard to have a spot in the club. They had to keep their grades up, maintain a certain GPA, and be a part of other extracurricular activities. All of the students in Beta had a very busy and fun filled year!

1. Seniors Delaney Gillespie, Caroline Methvin, and Karlee Cole pose for a quick picture at Beta induction. They worked very hard all four years, and it paid off in the end.

2. Seniors Kelley Jones and Anna Gieske and junior Adam Fleming get together to take a picture at Beta induction. They were all very excited to get into Beta.

3. Senior Faith Smith and juniors Emily Fisher and Erin Oxley smile for the camera. They were enjoying some refreshments at induction.

FCCLA

Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America also known as FCCLA is an organization that is founded on using leadership, family, and community service to make a difference in today's society. This year's chapter participated in several community service projects such as collecting pull tabs for the Ronald McDonald House, making trick or treat bags for the elderly at the retirement home, and participating in the Soles4Souls shoe drive. FCCLA members always have a great time helping and serving their community.

Loretto's FFA chapter has been active since 1936. For the past several years the chapter has experienced local, regional, state, and national success. This year is no different. The chapter participated in events such as state horse judging, land judging, ag mechanics, and forestry. Members also participated in leadership camps, speaking events, conventions, and many other events. They have represented Loretto High School in community activities such as the community garden, presenting the flag at ball games, talking to local groups and presenting agriculture to the community.

1. Sophomores Cory Rose and Forest Morgan fold the American flag. FFA members raise and take down the flag every day.

2. Jada Gibbs and Madison Franks pose for a picture while enjoying their time at the FFA Convention.

3. Neyland Russ, Ethan Prince, and Justin Wilburn come together to take a picture before going out on the town while visiting Gatlinburg, TN for the FFA convention.

2. Senior Bryce Hannah prepares himself for the trust fall. He had a great group to rely on.

3. Kayleigh Chadwell and Brooke Kleinke pose outside for a picture. They've enjoyed going to friend-to-friend the past two years.

4. Kelsey McMasters and Cody Rasberry participate in a trust exercise.

5. Junior Kayleigh Chadwell balances a mouse trap while walking. She was very focused.

6. The friend-to-friend participants meet to discuss ideas on how to make LHS a better school. They had some great ideas!

Friend-to-Friend

Friend-to-Friend is an organization that helps students learn how to support each other, to help each other gain confidence in him or herself, and to trust other people. This organization prepares young adults to help with their future. LHS teachers and faculty choose the students in this club. The students chosen go to retreat every summer at Henry Horton State Park. The main goal of the retreat is to learn skills that will help better LHS. Loretto High School students and faculty have enjoyed participating in Friend-to-Friend for the past few years.

HOSA

HOSA stands for Health Occupation Students of America. Through this club students get to learn about health care careers and do community service. Every year the students elect new officers. The 2014-2015 officers were Emma Harbison (President), Kayleigh Chadwell (Vice President), Brooklyn Howell (Secretary), Courtney Pruett (Historian), and Jake Nelson (Competition Coordinator). Some activities HOSA did this year were decorating Christmas trees at NHC Scott and having a Chicken dinner fundraiser. Several members also placed at Regional Competition. Emma Harbison placed in physical therapy, Brooklyn Howell in healthy lifestyles, Kayla Garland in medical photography, and Autumn Brown in nursing assistant.

1. The HOSA officers take a picture at the HOSA Fair Day. They enjoyed their day together.

2. A group picture at the annual HOSA picnic. The seniors will be greatly missed next year!

6. Interact members pose for a picture after the meeting.

INTERACT

Interact is a service club for youth who are dedicated to community and international service. Members learn about teamwork and leadership throughout the year. Interact member Victoria Cain said, "The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in service to others." That is Interact's goal. Members seek to help others and look for opportunities to serve the community. First year sponsor, Tiffany Bitting said, "I was super excited to take over Interact this year, to be able to get to know some of the students, and to also be able to give back to the community."

Skills USA

Skills USA is an organization that prides itself in helping teenagers learn the skills they need for their careers later on in life. Samantha Childress, the clubs leader said, "I am honored to be over a club that benefits teenagers so much. I am incredibly proud and thrilled to see so many young people wanting to kickstart their careers by taking these classes and being a part of our club." The Skills members did extremely well at competition this year. Dakota Hagan placed first in the welding division and Taylor White placed first in his category. Countless other in the club won awards this year too It's a great year to be in Skills!

1. Justin Wilburn works on his project at state competition. He did very well this year.

2. Mrs. Childress and Jacob Joiner take a quick selfie at state competition. They enjoyed their time together and had a lot of laughs.

4. The team poses for a great picture while they practice for the match.

Scholastic Bowl

Scholastic Bowl was a new club for the 2014-15 school year. The goal for the first year was to simply have enough members to form a team and to (hopefully) have a few good scrimmages. Well, it's safe to say the team slaughtered those expectations. Mr. Sides had the privilege of getting to know some of Loretto High School's very best students. They were so much more than a team. They were a nerdy, a geeky, and (most of all) an awesome family. By the end of the first semester, the team was already playing in competitions. In the first tournament, they traveled to Webb School in Bell Buckle, TN, for SWAG: The Ron Smith Experience. The team learned a lot about to get better for future matches. The team did an amazing job at the 3rd Bowl Invitation Annual West Point Quiz, defeating big school and enjoying themselves. Later in the season, they even beat LCHS in a scrimmage. Mr. Sides said, I couldn't be more proud of our scholastic bowl team. I hate to lose our two outstanding seniors, Tobias and Charles, but I feel confident that next year will be even better."

The Student Government Association chooses some of the best student leaders in the school. Throughout the year, the SGA participates in many community service and volunteer projects. Club members and sponsors work hard to boost school spirit and student morale by hosting tailgate parties and activities for both students and teachers. Students volunteer countless hours to collect money for the local Angel Tree and the LHS food pantry. The SGA sponsored the Winter Formal, organized games for Homecoming, and developed an interesting Back-to-School assembly that many look forward to year after year. Co-Sponsor, Paula Rigsby said, "While sponsoring the SGA may be very time consuming, it is one of the most rewarding experiences."

1. Eli Rosson and Cainon Phillips get ready to check out with their goodies for the angel tree. they really enjoyed contributing to the project.

2. Savannah Gamble and Tori Bottoms search for the perfect toy for their angel. They decided in the fire truck.

3. SGA members went to Wal-mart to buy gifts for the Angle Tree at Christmas. Each year, LHS and the SGA sponsor several underprivileged children in the area.

4. Sam Bottoms, Bryce Hannah, and Eli Rosson enjoy shopping for their angel. This group had a lot of fun.

5. Kayley Allen, Anna Brewer, and Sloan Ferguson take a picture inside the Nutty Bar booth. SGA members worked the booth to raise money for Relay 4 Life.

6. Junior Lauren Coggin shows off a great find in the Play-doh section. She was super excited about the cake mountain.

7. Seniors Abby Caldwell, Caroline Methvin, and Delaney Gillespie take a selfie together. All three girls were very active members of SGA.

2. Seniors Kayley Allen and Anna Brewer show off their signs at the Today show on their trip to New York.

3. This year's business plan team did very well. They placed first in Regionals and second in State!

4. Junior Emily Fisher took a picture with Skeeter after enjoying his performance at the Dixie Stampede.

5. Karlee Cole, Faith Smith, Anna Gieske, Emma Sanders, Lauren Coggin, and Ellie Davis had a great time riding with Mrs. N.

6. Karlee Cole, Anna Gieske, and Ellie Davis took a selfie with the selfie stick they purchased before attending the Broadway show, Finding Neverland.

7. The Mid-West Regional Trade Show was a learning experience for this year's new members. The Animal Kingdom, Inc. sold over $260,000 within the five hour trade fair.

Virtual Enterprise

Virtual Enterprise gives students the unique opportunity to run a virtual business, while interacting with business students across the globe. Being a part of Virtual Enterprise is an experience you will never forget. Throughout the year, members of The Animal Kingdom, Inc. strive to fulfill their deadlines, ranging from the business plan to the annual report. It definitely gets complicated at certain times of the year but The Animal Kingdom, Inc. never fails to pull off the tasks they are given. The Animal Kingdom, Inc. received many awards over the course of the year at both the Mid-West Regional Trade Show and the New York Trade Show. The Animal Kingdom, Inc. placed within the Top 10 in six of the seven competitions that they entered while attending the Mid-West Regional Trade Show! It was very fulfilling for this year's members to accomplish what they did. Virtual Enterprise teacher, Ms. Pack said, "This year was an exceptional year, with The Animal Kingdom Inc. being more successful than ever before!" This business year and this year's employees truly embraced the slogan of 'Leave Your Print.' Not a single employee will forget the memories that this year's class made. Each of the graduating seniors will miss the Virtual Enterprise experience in the years to come and wish the future employees the best of luck in all of their future endeavors.

1. The senior girls who attended the New York Trade Show loved the booth they worked extremely hard to make and pack into the suitcase.

2. Courtney King, Faith Smith, Kayley Allen, and Anna Brewer really enjoyed their experience at Ellen's Stardust Diner before going to see the Rockettes.

3. The 'Fab Four' had a great time taking pictures at Madame Tussades Wax Museum in New York. This was a great way to spend the night after being at the Trade Fair all day.

4. Anna Gieske, Ellie Davis, and Karlee Cole pose with their Oscar's before leaving the wax museum.

5. The individuals who attended the New York trip in April had a great time at their Broadway show Finding Neverland.

6. The Animal Kingdom, Inc. filled their last day in New York with a trip to the Hard Rock Cafe for a wonderful dinner.

7. The Animal Kingdom, Inc. has received many awards over the years. They added Silver placement in catalogue and Bronze placement in website design while at the New York Trade Show.

8. Karlee Cole, Anna Brewer, Courtney King, and Kayley Allen take a selfie while going through security in LaGuardia Airport in hopes they make it back in time for prom. Thankfully, they did!

1. The team watches intently as the competition goes on. They had a blast competing this year.

2. Some members of the team pose with our mascot as he is being teased by a rival mascot. Don't worry; the mascots made peace in the end.

3. Matt Ryberg, Matthew Hardman, and Micah Perry look at the opposing teams' robots. They were sizing up the competition.

4. Peyton Hunt and Micah Perry put their robot to the test. They loved getting to work on the robot this year.

5. Peyton Hunt and Joseph Smith work on their robot. They made sure everything was made just perfect before testing it.

6. The team gets pumped up before the main event. Having the mascot there really brought their spirits up.

Robotics

Mustang Robotics is a great contribution to Loretto High school. It is a team where members actually design and build a robot. The club meets for many hours after school with sponsor Annette Gillespie to build and test their robot. They then take their robot to competition at North West Community College in Muscle Shoals, Alabama. During competition, they put their originally designed robot through tests to see if they have built it to last. Not only is Robotics a great opportunity to learn technological skills, it is also a great way to develop business skills. Each year, the club also has to design and build a booth displaying and promoting their robot.

Youth in Government

Youth in Government is a club that young, aspiring, politic loving students get their chance to shine. These students have to write a bill, present it, and attempt to get it passed. The club's sponsors were Mr. Arley Simbeck and Mrs. Tiffany Biting. These teachers really helped the students to get their work done and turned in and made sure that they had a fun stay in Nashville for the conference. Senior Caroline Methvin said "Youth in Government was a great experience, and I am very glad that I have attended the last two years!" All of the students had a great time at the 2015 YIG conference!

1. Freshmen Ian Hall and Jordan Shults take a nap at the Governor's Ball. The long days at YIG really made the students tired.

2. A group of girls jump for joy in front of the states capitol building. They all really enjoyed their days spent in the beautiful capitol.

3. Sophomore SaraBeth Conley and Juniors Lauren Coggin and Emma Sanders take a break during session in the capitol to take a quick selfie.

4. Junior Lauren Coggin and Sophomore Kitana Cox stood together for a picture in front of the state capitol. They had a great trip and really enjoyed it!

5. All of the YIG students pose together for a picture in the lobby of the Sheraton. They all loved spending time together and participating in the government procedures.

6. Some of the YIG students stop to take a picture together in front of the capitol on their way to dinner. They were all very happy to be able to take off their business clothes and stroll through downtown Nashville.

7. Freshman Blair Shelton and senior Caroline Methvin take a cute picture while waiting for their meals at the Governor's Ball. After a long day of legislature, a tasty meal was just what they needed.

Deca

1. The Deca members take a group picture at Regionals. They had a wonderful time with all the activities that they were involved in at regional!

2. Deca members take a quick picture during their dinner at state. They enjoyed their meal after a long day of competing!

3. Juniors Emma Sanders, Lauren Coggin, and Tori Bottoms receive blue ribbons at Regionals. They put in a lot of hard work and did a great job!

Birdies and Bogeys

The Mustang golf team had a great season this year. They all played their best, and enjoyed hitting the course as a team. As his first year as coach of the golf team, Micah Rochester enjoyed spending time on the greens with the players. When asked about his first season coaching the team, Coach Rochester said "I really enjoyed coaching golf. The team worked very hard and were a lot of fun to be around." All the players seemed to really enjoy him as a coach.

The seniors on the team, Bailey Flatt and Brandon Gillespie, both made their last season one to remember. Bailey Flatt said, "I was always hitting straight and had my best season ever!" From single matches against local teams to traveling to tournaments, the 2014 Mustang Golf Team had a season to remember and lots of good times.

Band

Loretto High School band had an outstanding 2014-2015 school year. During marching season, the theme for their half-time show was all things rain. From "Singing in the Rain" to "I Can See Clearly Now, the Rain is Gone," the band filled the stadium with the sounds of percussion, brass, and woodwinds. Their many hours of practice in the summer heat and after school was evident in their performances.

It was a great year for competitions also. The band scored exceedingly well at every competition they attended. The honors didn't stop there. They were asked to march in Gatlinburg in the Christmas Parade, and they traveled to Disney World to march in a parade during spring break. Each member of the band contributed greatly to their success. This year's seniors showed great leadership and have set the standard high for future band members.

Once a Cheerleader, Always a Cheerleader

From the very start of the 2014-2015 cheer season, this particular group of girls have bonded like they were sisters. The love and determination that the squad had for one another was one of a kind. Becoming a cheerleader ensured each girl a lifelong best friend. From weekly trips to gymnastics to cheering at late night ball games, the girls knew that they would cherish the moments forever. Kelley Jones, the senior cheer captain, comments on her final year as a cheerleader. She says, "I cannot believe my cheer days are already over. It has been such a memorable experience. I will never forget this year with a great group of girls that made my senior year the best. They all mean so much to me! Time flies when you're having fun!" It is safe to say that the girls will always have a special place in each other's hearts.

Third Down for What

The 2014 Loretto High School football season was certainly one to remember. The season featured some heartbreaking losses to Lawrence County, Mt. Pleasant, and Scotts Hill, but it also featured exciting wins against Perry County, Collinwood, and Richland. One of the most exciting things about the season was the formation of LHS's new spirit club: Mustangs in Action (MIAs). The MIAs attended pep rallies before home games, created spirit lines for the players to run through before games, and did cheers during games. Their spirit was definitely contagious; the players seemed to really enjoy the increase in student enthusiasm.

After finishing second overall in the district, the Mustangs advanced to the playoffs for the fourth year in a row. The playoff game was played at home versus Scotts Hill. The students and the town were very proud to cheer for the players that night even though they did not end up winning the game.

Lo Town Funk You Up

The Mustangs basketball team made history for the 2014-2015 year! The team had a winning record of 23 wins and only 7 losses. This was the first year since 1942 that the Mustangs' basketball team has made it to the state tournament. Making it to state was such a big accomplishment for the team. Coach Rochester recalls when he was in high school by saying, "No one ever asked if we won. They'd just ask, 'how bad did you get beat?'"

There was so much support from the crowd at every game this season. Senior Logan Nunley said, "It's been like a dream. The crowd has been super supportive and showing support every way they can. It's been awesome. I've seen people at our game I hadn't ever seen before." All the parents and fans had faith in the team and they just knew the team was up to great things this year! The Mustangs' basketball were led by seniors Myles Burkes, Logan Nunley, Ben Farrington, Lane Myhan, and Brandon Gillespie. # Lady Mustangs

Loretto Lady's Softball had a very great year. They played like champs and did their best. The softball ladies had some new players and some players who have been there from the beginning. All in all the girls stuck together. Making new friends and making memories. You never know what friends are until you have been a part of a team. You never know what sticking together means until you are a part of a team. Being a part of a softball team is like being a part of a family. If you play together you stay together. The softball girls have a very important coach to thank. Without a coach the girls would not know what to do. Our school is very proud to have this team. You girls have done a great job. Bryce Hannah tries to make a save. Bryce was a four year player for the soccer team.

Go Mustangs!

The 2015 Boys' Soccer Team had a great season this year. With only three losses, they were the epitome of success. One of their greatest accomplishments was beating the rival team Lawrence County. The team is coached by Harley Simbeck who said, "It was an honor and a pleasure to coach such a fine group of young men. I will miss all my seniors, but look forward to seeing the underclassmen use the skills they learned from the seniors and step up to the plate next year." There were nine talented seniors on the team this year. Most of them were voted onto the all tournament team. The team had a breaking game in the first round of the district tournament against Wayne County. Though their season was cut short, the team still had a blast playing and making memories together.

Ridge Mattox, 18

Will McBee passes the ball to one of his teammates. He was a great team player this year.

Love all

The 2015 tennis team had a great season! All of the singles players and the doubles teams played outstanding games everywhere they went. They always worked hard and gave it all they had to try and beat their opponents. The team was coached by Mrs. Carol Vaughn and Mr. Jim Reeves. The coaches always encouraged the players to have good sportsmanship and play to the best of their abilities. The team all agreed that their coaches played a huge part in their success. The doubles team of Samuel Shults and Bobby Vaughn made it to the semifinals of the district tournament and foreign exchange student Aurelie Claes advanced all the way to the state tournament! Aurelie said, "It has been a real pleasure to have been a part of the tennis team, and I am glad I got to meet all of these amazing players." All of the players on the tennis team were friends and they loved to practice and play together. They always made sure to support one another and cheer each other on. They really made "love all" a true statement and not just a score in the game.

▶ Sophomore Kitana Cox readies her racket to hit the ball. She is a very important part of the tennis team and always gives it her best.

1. Freshman Nico Rivera tosses the ball up for a serve. This was his first year playing tennis and he improved greatly as the season progressed.
2. Senior Aurelie Claes goes to serve the ball in her doubles match, while her partner Hannah Graves stands prepared at the net. They made a great doubles pair this season and always had a great time playing together.
3. Senior Caroline Methvin and Junior Lauren Coggin pose for a cute picture at the district tournament. They have been doubles partners for three years and played great together.
4. Senior exchange student Aurelie Claes poses with the district bracket after winning first place at the district tournament. She played great and was a very important player on the team.

Freshman Olivia Chadwell places 10th in the race at Lawrenceburg. She did great this season!

Sophomores Gracie Aldridge and Kalyn Shepherd run the course together. They are great runners!

A group of girls pose for a picture at regionals. They advanced to state!

The senior girls gather to take a picture before the race. It was the first race of the season.

Ready, Set, Run!

The Loretto Cross Country team had yet another successful year. The team is combined of two teams- one girls team and one boys team. Both teams trained very hard for each race. The girls' placed second in Regionals, qualifying them for State. The girls have competed in State two years in a row. The State meet is at Percy-Warner Park in Bretwood. Overall the Cross Country team had a great year and enjoyed competing in races!

The Bridge Builder

This is an important moment for us. We are seated here on the threshold of the real world, faced with the vast uncertainty and possibility of the future, and I think we would be lying if we said it isn't daunting. Since this is the last time we will all be together like this, I would like to share a story with you all. It is the story of The Bridge Builder.

One evening, an elderly man is traveling along a path when suddenly he reaches a dangerous river that blocks his way. He is not frightened, however, and he crosses without difficulty. But when he gets to the other side, rather than continuing on his way, he turns and begins to build a bridge back across the water. A man who is standing nearby notices this and speaks up. "What are you doing?" he cries. "You have already passed through the water without a problem and can resume your journey. Why are you wasting time building this bridge?" The old man turns to him and replies, "Others will use this same path and meet the water as I did- others who are perhaps younger or less experienced than me. This river that was not an obstacle for me, could be treacherous to them. And so, I am building the bridge for them."

The story of The Bridge Builder is one about legacy and what it means to leave a mark on this world. The old man chooses to correct a problem he sees in the world- not for himself, but for those who will come after him. The reason this is important to me, and the reason it is important to you, my fellow classmates, is because we have reached the time in our lives where we must step up and become bridge builders ourselves. We must lay aside our childish notions and accept the great responsibility that God has prepared for us- to build bridges so that others may cross them in the future. The fate of this country in which we are so privileged to live depends upon our ability to pave the road for future generations. All of the freedom and opportunity that we are able to enjoy has been handed down from generation to generation since this nation's birth. It was handed down to us, and now, it is our turn to hand it down. We do this task together, but it will be different for everyone. God has different bridges for each of us to build just as he has blessed each of us with different skills with which to build our bridges. Each of us has strengths and talents that differ from those around us. If you have not started yet, start listening to yourself. Learn what your abilities are, and learn how you are able to influence others. If each of us were to do this, and if each of us were to use our gifts to their full capacity, there would be no limit to what we could accomplish.

Ronald Reagan once said, "There are no constraints on the human mind, no walls around the human spirit, no barriers to our progress except those we ourselves erect." YOU are your biggest obstacle. The imaginary limits that you dream up in your head are the most challenging ones you will ever have to overcome. You cannot build a bridge if you tell yourself you cannot build a bridge! So do yourself a favor, and don't put walls around your capabilities because each and every one of us has the ability to make an impact, no matter how small it may seem. They say that since there is no atmosphere, and therefore no wind, on the moon that any footprint put there remains there to this day, perfectly intact. In the same way, I believe our God has designed a world in which every soul makes a lasting impact, and that all the influence we make, along with every bridge we build, will remain here, unaltered by time- WE are footprints on the moon. So, class of 2015, here is my advice to you and to myself as well: take the tools God has given you... and build a bridge worth building. Thank you, and God bless you all.

Yant, Todd 55
 Young, Isaiah 39

On our city's southern border
Reared against the sky

Proudly stands our alma mater

As the years go by.

Forward ever, be our watchword,

Conquer and prevail.

Affair to thee our alma mater.
GHS, all hail!
