seasons of change

"My favorite part of school is when the bell rings; I wait all day for that irritating BUZZ," Haley Stricklin, 12. "My most embarrassing moment in high school was when I got tackled and 'pantsed' in the ENDZONE" Clint Wooten, 12. "My life revolves around video games, and I would literally go through a withdrawal if I had to go a week without them" Jonathan Olive, 10. "I will not drink anything, unless it is with two STRAWS" Kati Wilburn, 12. "I go to the TANNING bed two times a week to get the perfect glow," Heather Nolen, 10. "The highlight of my year would be the basketball homecoming game because I won Most School Spirit," Tik Tang, 11. "I have been pulled over like 26 times, but I have never had a TICKET; my record is still clean," Zach Glover, 12. "Everytime I take a shower, I find myself singing 'Oh Lord, It's Hard to be Humble' by Roger Miller," Mr. Brandon Weaver, DRAMA teacher. "My biggest PHOBIA is of needles, just the sight of them makes me cringe," Marilyn Clark, 10. "In this whole universe, I only hate three PEOPLE and I will never tell who," Ashley Keener, 12. "My best friend used to have a cow named Bertha; BERTHA was an angry cow," Ms.

English Teacher. "My least favorite school subject is SPANISH; I see no point in knowing another language," Jennifer Killen, 10. "Some day I want to go to HAWAII and share a pina colada with my mommy," Rachel Brown, 12. "I reckon I could not go a day without a Mountain Dew," Kyle Carter, 10. "If you are going to have a quote in a YEAR-BOOK, have a quote from Matt Campbell, 11. "Campbell?" Atticus Wright, 12. "People on purpose think it is FUNNY," Jamie Norwood, 10. "My pet peeve does not try, who does not try, who will not LIS-

Amelia Jarnigan, 12. "My least favorite school subject would have to be SPANISH, I see no point in knowing another language," Jennifer Killen, 10. "Some day I want to go to HAWAII and share a pina colada with my mommy," Rachel Brown, 12. "I reckon I could not go a day without a Mountain Dew," Kyle Carter, 10. "If you are going to have a quote in a YEAR-BOOK, have a quote from Matt Campbell, 11. "Campbell?" Atticus Wright, 12. "People on purpose think it is FUNNY," Jamie Norwood, 10. "My pet peeve does not try, who does not try, who will not LIS- not do homework, and who does not care," Mrs. Debra Barnett, MATH teacher. "The best Nick at Night show ever is The Fresh Prince of Bel-Air," Katherine Pack, 10. "Sometimes I don't think that I am forgiving enough," Alana Hendrix, 10. "Looks definitely matter in a relationship because you can't spend the rest of your life with someone who you think is ugly or that you can't stand to look at," Shalyn Reed, 12. "I use chapstick at least five times a day," Morgan Hill, 12. "I guess you could say that I am a little afraid of the DARK; I like my night light." Tana Kelley, 12. "Some people ask 'Love or Money?' For me it would definitely be love because MONEY runs out, but true love never ends," Shelby McCafferty, 9. "I would rather be hot than cold because you can cool off a lot faster than you can warm up," Amber Eaton, 12. "The highlight of my senior year is when the boys BEAT LAWRENCEBURG in basketball," Kaitlyn Sewell, 12.

fall into a new year

The leaves fall, the wind blows, and the farm country slowly changes from the summer cottons into its winter wools. Fall is very important season of the school year; the Homecoming Queen receives her crown, and the freshman girl receives her first kiss on the top of the ferris wheel at the annual county fair. The boys start hunting for their first big buck of the season, and await to eat a large turkey for Thanksgiving dinner. No matter if it's the cheerleaders yelling for Mustangs to score or if its music lovers rocking out at music festivals, the liveliness of fall is evident no matter where you go.

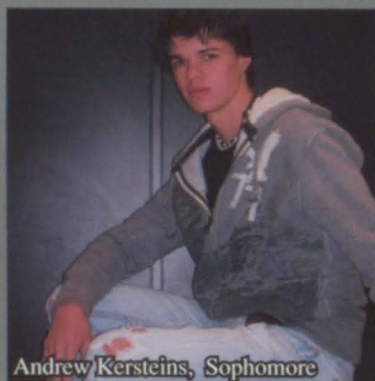

WHAT NOT TO WEAR

(Back to School)

With a new school year came many new rules, and most of these were concerning the dress code. After many complaints and several trips to the office talking to our new principal, Mr. Wright, we finally realized the dress code could not be changed. The rule that brought about the most fuss was the banning of skulls. Whether it was a girly skull, a pirate skull, or a morbid looking skull, the rule stood as NO skulls. "I just went back to school shopping and ninety percent of the clothes I bought had skulls on them," said junior Jordan Gooch. This same complaint was repeated throughout the halls for several weeks. Another controversial topic concerned tank tops. In the past, tank tops that had straps that were "three fingers width" were acceptable. Now, any student who wears a top without sleeves is asked not to wear it again. There are also other modifications of the old dress code such as no holes, no gloves worn as accessories, and guys are encouraged to have hair cut above the shoulders. Any student who chooses to break these new additions to the dress code must go to the office and either change into the clothes provided or call their parents to bring them more.

NO holes in clothes.

Andrew Kersteins, Sophomore

NO tank tops.

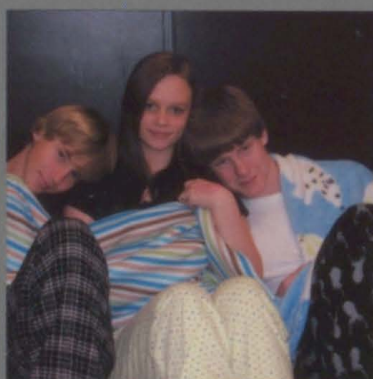

Kady Nash, Sophomore

Katelyn Moore, Senior

NO guitar hero shirts.

NO pajamas.

before

If a student chooses to break dress code, he/she must change into a clothes that are stored in the front office.

after

What is your opinion of the new dress code rules?

- F I hate it. -Coty Shults
- S Thumbs down. -Carey Johns
- J It makes me dress like my grandpa. -Jordn Lee
- Sr. I feel bad for people who aren't allowed to express themselves. -Ashley Keener

What item of clothing do you most miss wearing to school?

- F My Fox Shirt with a skull on it. -Brady Slater
- S My holey jeans. -Jordan Butler
- J My plaid shorts with a hole in them. -Matt Campbell
- Sr. My cute zebra tank top. -Kaitlyn Sewell

What new dress code rule do you agree with most?

- F None of them. -Carson Bradley
- S No spandex. -Jeremy Olive
- J No skulls. They scare me. -Derrick Harris
- Sr. None of them. -Clint Wooten

What is one thing that you would change about the dress code?

- F I wouldn't be as strict with the no skull rule. -Haley Watkins
- S Being able to wear hat. -Richard Nard
- J Be able to have holes below the knee. -Hannah Murrell
- Sr. I'd make everyone wear a uniform. -Colin Stout

BOTTOMS: Bottom wear must be size appropriate (no sagging) and worn securely (waist and below) around the waist. Any holes in bottom wear must be covered. No form-fitting spandex material will be allowed.

JEWELRY/ACCESSORIES: Students are not to wear jewelry, ornaments, or accessories which distract from the educational process, such as excessively noisy jewelry, gauges, and/or belts. No body-piercing jewelry is allowed except to the ears. No heavy metal chains (such as made out of steel, chrome, alloy, etc.) and look alikes that are not formal jewelry are allowed around the neck, around the waist, or hanging from the waist into the pocket. Students may not wear metal-spiked apparel or similar accessories.

OTHER: Students are not to wear extreme facial makeup that is disruptive to the educational environment. All students are required to wear their hair in such a manner that is not considered unkempt, unclean, or impairing vision. Students are not to wear hair sprayed or dyed in unnatural colors (such as blue, pink, green, yellow), spiked hair, or Mohawks.

Waiting on the "Best Dressed" to be announced freshmen Kendall Price, Leanne Byrd, Abby Vanderford, Alex Niederges and Gage Parrot represent their class.

Homecoming queen Magan Shults is ready for snow.

Best dressed sophomores are Maegan Jacobs, Lila Robertson, Courtney Welton and Kady Nash.

I didn't have any money to go buy a crazy hat, so I decided to make my own!

Kaitlyn Sewell, SR
first place

I raided my grandma's closet, and found it. I thought it was perfect!

Payton Cole, SO
second place

I knew my face was ugly, and I wanted to cover it, but it couldn't be a plain brown paper bag so I added a crazy Bahama hat to it. And I'm awesome!

Micah King, JR
third place

I knew that not many people would think of using a Christmas theme.

Alex Neidergeres, FR
fourth place

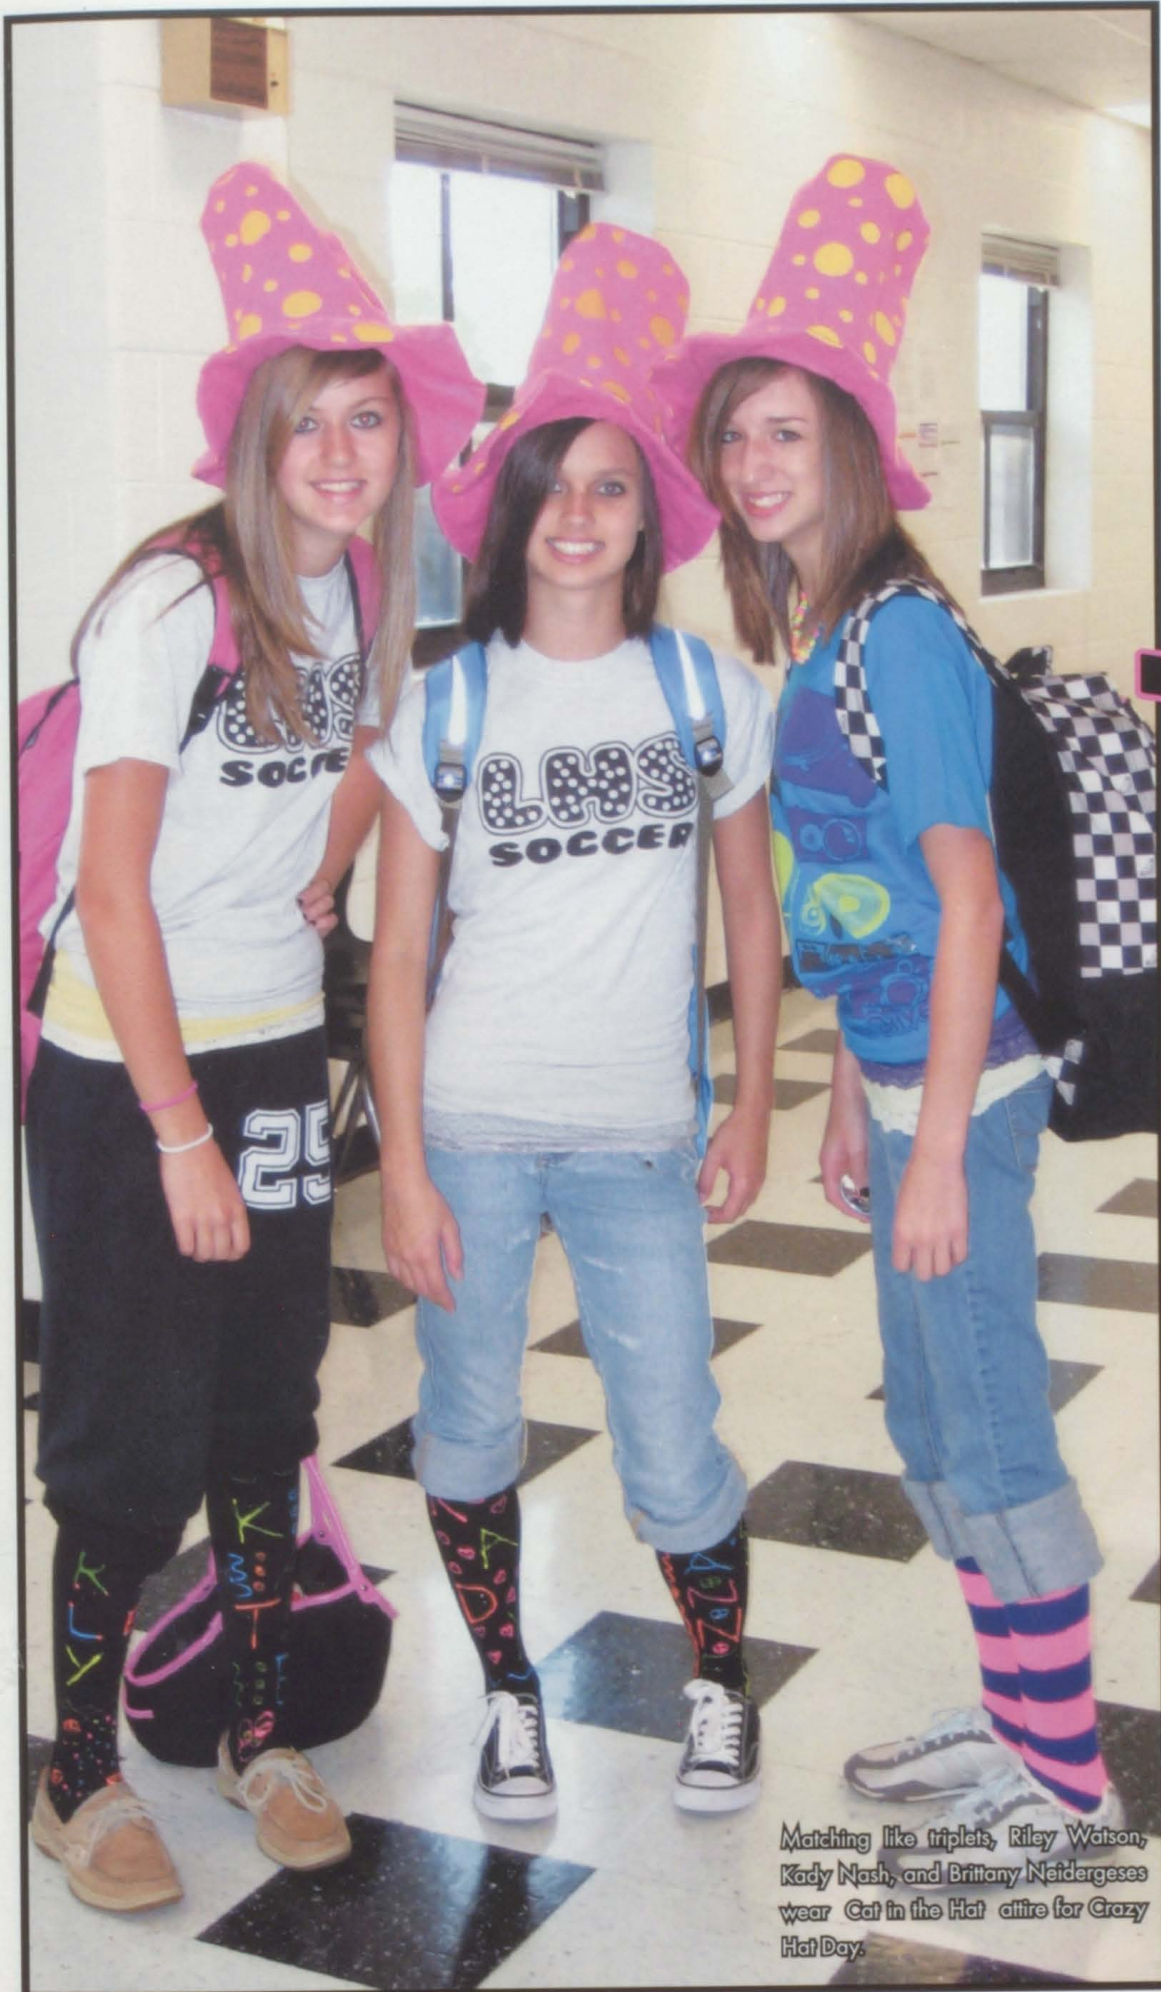

Trying to win one for the junior class, Nichole Griggs catches erasers in her hat.

The madness that was homecoming week began on Monday with crazy hat and socks day. Whether it was Jordyn Mobley's creative sock shirt or Kaitlyn Sewell's prize winning hat made of pie pans, everyone jumped at the opportunity to display their individual style. At the morning assembly students were anxious before the homecoming queen was announced. After an unnecessarily long pause, Magan Shults was declared 2008 Homecoming queen. Afterward, Mrs. Patterson explained the game objective for the day - catch as many erasers in a hat as possible without dropping any on the floor. Seniors, Kati Wilburn and Katherine Hardiman represented their class well by dominating the competition. Katherine revealed the secret of their success, "I actually dropped the eraser first, but no one noticed so we still won....Shhh, don't tell!"

from head to toe, crazy hat and socks day

Matching like triplets, Riley Watson, Kady Nash, and Brittany Neidergeses wear Cat in the Hat attire for Crazy Hat Day.

tuesday

peace man! it's hippie day.

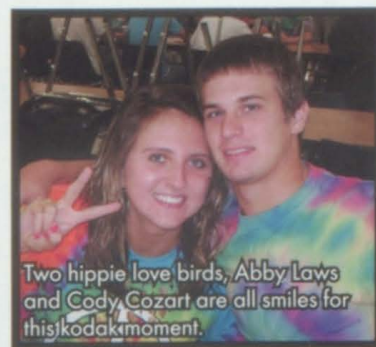

Senior Katherine Hardiman puzzles the camera with her mystic stare.

Principal Mr. Wright poses with Lunch Lady Mrs. Patty, for a little groovy shot!

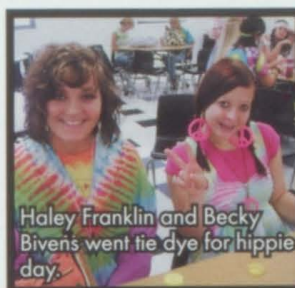

Posing at breakfast, seniors Jamie Smith and Magan Shults show off their flower power.

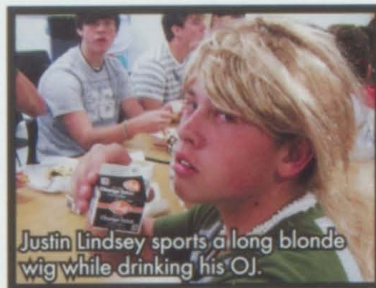

Two hippie love birds, Abby Laws and Cody Cozart are all smiles for this kodak moment!

Raeven Price and Katy Robertson are shining a little peace on us.

Haley Franklin and Becky Bivens went tie dye for hippie day.

Justin Lindsey sports a long blonde wig while drinking his OJ.

I got my outfit from my mama. She wore it back in the day.

Caitlin Hoffmeyer, SR
first place

I got the clothes from my grandma....I mean she basically dressed me herself.

Amber Hughes, SR
second place

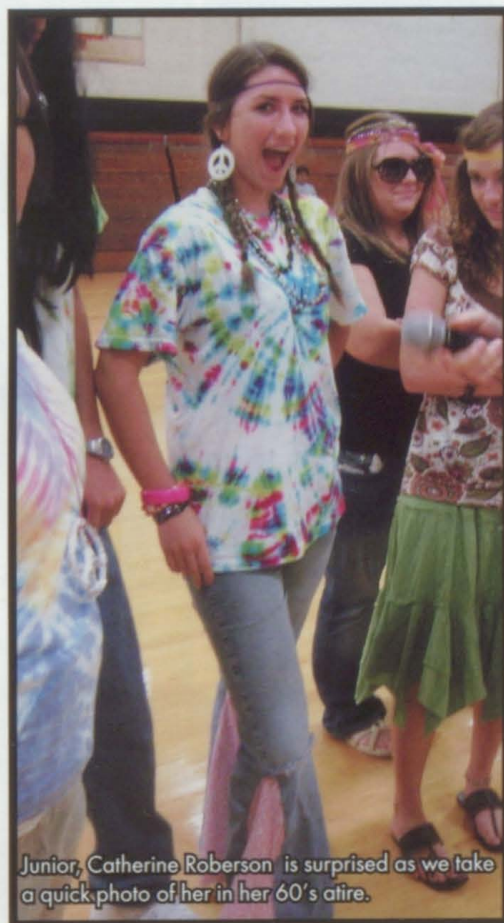

I wanted to dress groovy just like the ladies did back in the 60s'.

Hannah Smith, JR
third place

I got my clothes from my cousin who had worn them for hallo-ween.

Erin Jones, SO
fourth place

Junior, Catherine Roberson is surprised as we take a quick photo of her in her 60's attire.

The 60's were a time of free love, war, and peace. To celebrate Hippy Day the student body focused on keeping the peace. Head bands, long skirts, and tie dye shirts were found around every corner. The words peace, love, and far out were shouted throughout the day. For the game, two students from each class raced to see who could unroll a roll of toilet paper without breaking it first. Seniors took the victory for the second day in a row. There is also the matter of the "Spirit Monster". To find the "Spirit Monster", students must go to faculty and staff members and say a spirited phrase that applies to the theme of the day. The seniors also unveiled the notorious "Spirit Monster" a.k.a. Mrs. Deanna Huntley and won the points for their class.

My mom picked out my outfit. She teased my hair like crazy and used a whole can of hairspray.

Shalyn Reed, SR
first place

I couldn't think of anything else so I decided to go for the whole Paula Abdul look.

Jordan Mobley, SO
second place

I was Tina Turner last year for Halloween, and I didn't want to waste money on a new outfit. I decided to just re-use that one.

Tiffany Alvarado, JR
third place

My mom dressed me. She just said wear this and this and this.

Keeli Allen, SO
fourth place

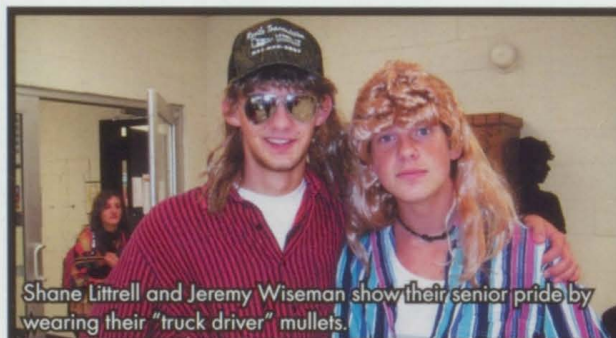

Freshman Brady Slater is all smiles in his cool shades and bleach blonde mullet.

Ugh, Cardinals, like gag me with a spoon! This was the phrase that rang throughout the hallways as the students searched frantically for the "spirit monster" on 80's Day. The seniors showed the underclassmen who was boss by not only finding the "spirit monster", but also winning the game. The game for the day was to solve the totally tricky rubics cube in two minutes. No one completely finished, but senior, Jeremy Wiseman, got the farthest with junior, Catherine Roberson, not far behind. All over the campus the students and teachers alike showed their spirit. Sophomores, Katherine Pack and Savannah Bottoms totally rocked the 80's fashions to support their class. 80's day was a totally awesome success.

Seniors, Molly Littrell and Amber Hughes pose in the gym.

Freshman, Abby Vanderford, totally rocks her 80's outfit.

Wednesday

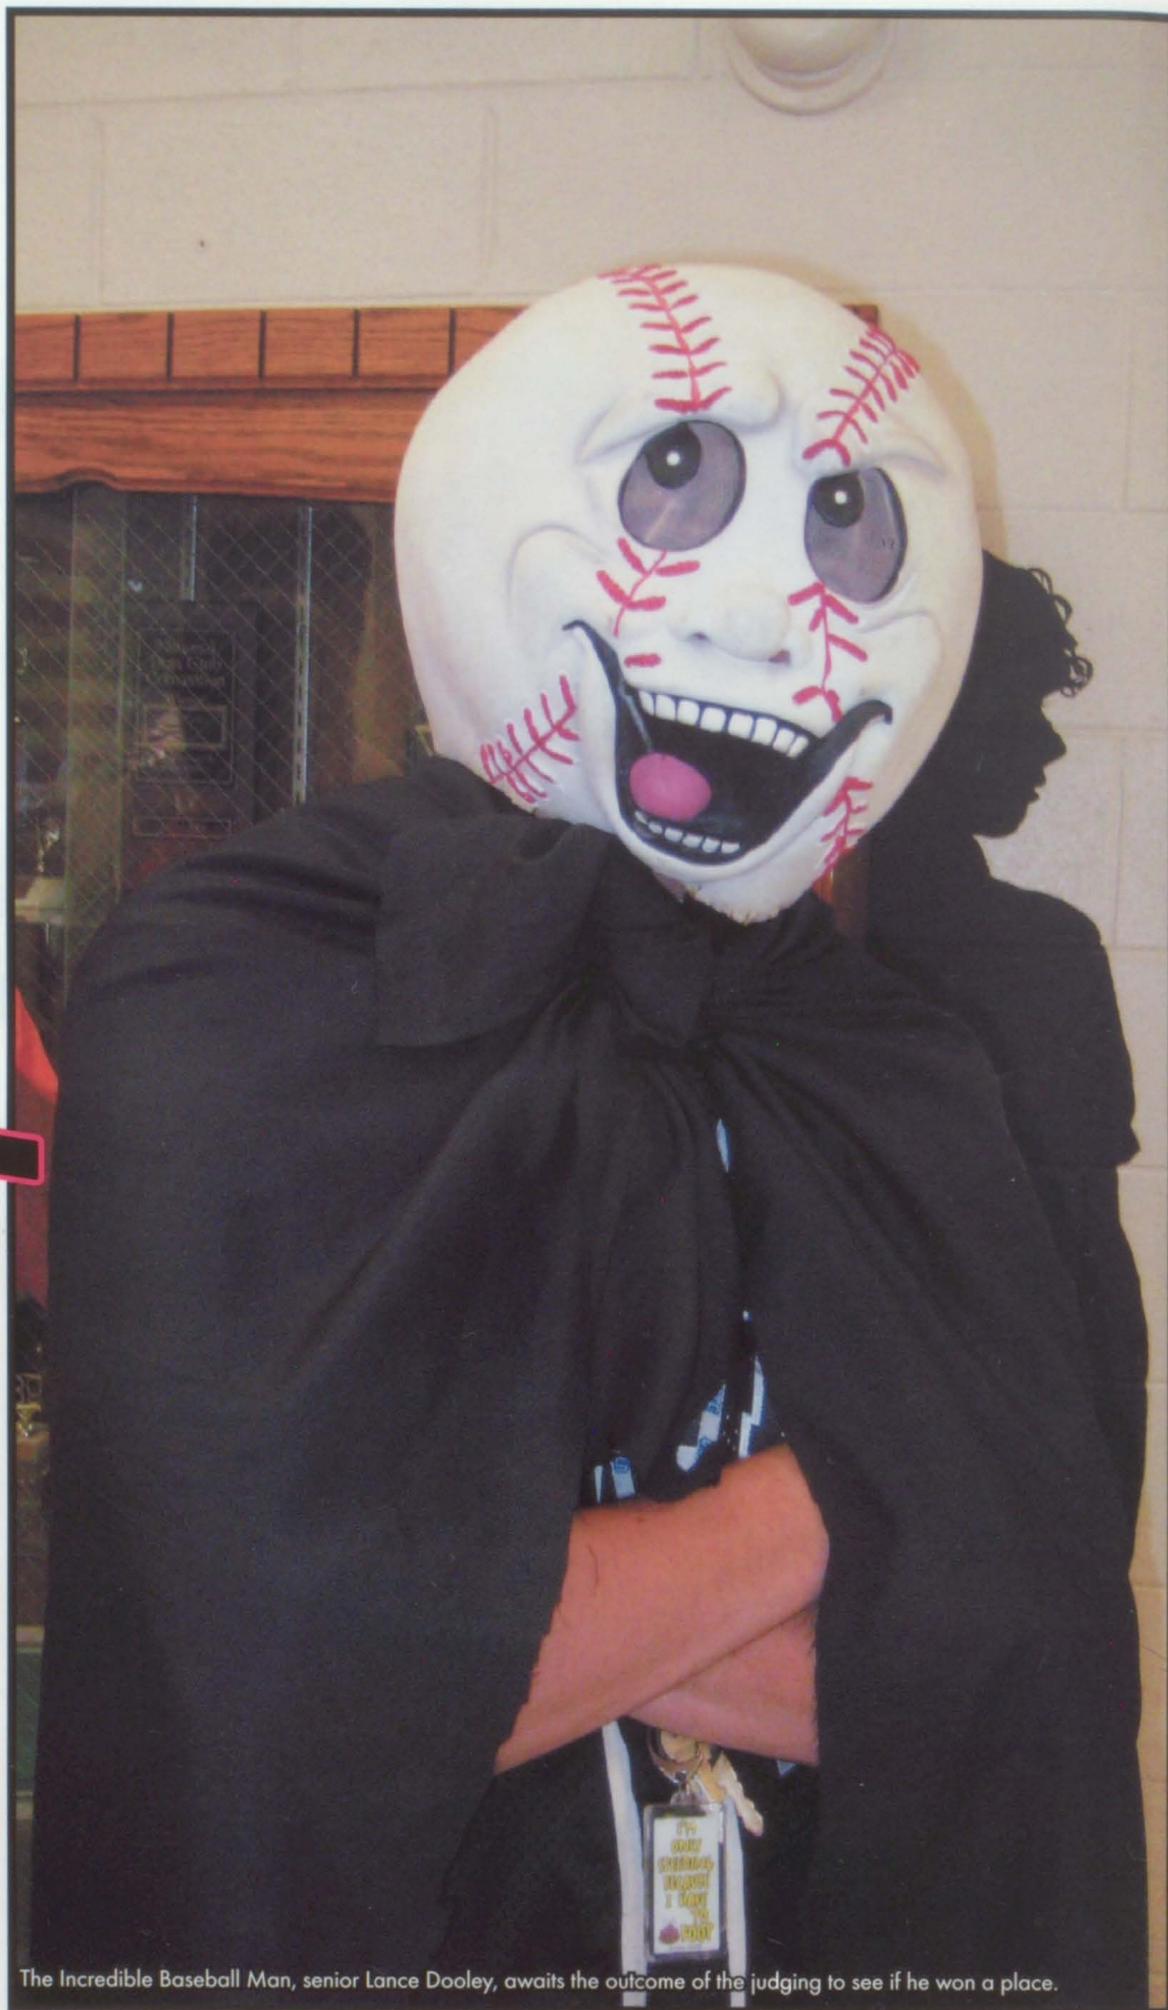

like totally, 20's day

Jeremy Wiseman concentrates on solving the rubics cube and winning the game for the Senior class.

thursday

it's a bird, it's a plane, it's a super hero day!

The Incredible Baseball Man, senior Lance Dooley, awaits the outcome of the judging to see if he won a place.

I was always helping with my aunt's kids and I thought it would be suitable to be supermom.

Cierra Franklin, SO
first place

I wanted to wear a tight costume to show my buldging muscles! I also wanted a side kick, and I love dogs!

Micah King, JR
second place

We stole the idea from LCHS seniors and just made it ten times better than what they did.

Super Senior Sisters
third place

I found the clothes in the back of my closet. I thought it looked really cute so I wore them.

Alex Neidergeres, FR
fourth place

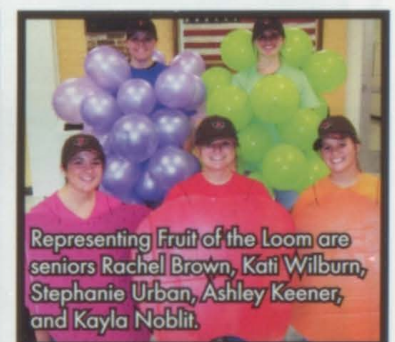

"Super Homeless Guy" John Lehner and Nina Schult "Kühhirtin" pose in front of the judges.

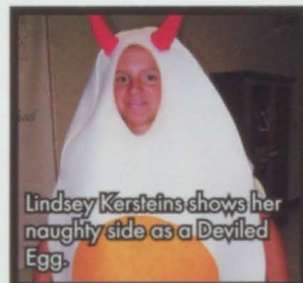

Elizabeth Paden smiles as she waits for the judges' decision on best costume.

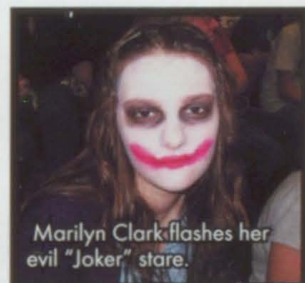

Chelsey Ferguson, Amber Hughes, and Stacey Gist decided to take on ghost busting while waiting on "Best Dressed" to be announced.

Representing Fruit of the Loom are seniors Rachel Brown, Kati Wilburn, Stephanie Urban, Ashley Keener, and Kayla Noblit.

Lindsey Kersteins shows her naughty side as a Deviled Egg.

Marilyn Clark flashes her evil "Joker" stare.

Abby Laws and Jordan Mobley display their "Sleeping Beauty" qualities.

The hallways were filled with capes and spandex on "Super Hero Day." Everybody had their chance to express their inner hero. Classic heroes were not the only ones to make an appearance. Many of us allowed our creativeness to shine. Super Homeless Guy, Sleeping Beauties, and Twirl Girl were a few of the more creative heroes. When we were announced to go to the gym our pride began to intensify. Every class wanted to win the homecoming game. After everyone got in their section of the bleachers, the game was announced. The game for the day was the "human knot". We were allowed to have twenty participants to represent each class. Once everyone was out on the gym floor, we were given our instructions. We had to form a ball and grab random hands. The objective was to maneuver ourselves over and under and in and out of the knot. We were off! The sophomores had a clear advantage on every other class. As the end of the game approached the sophomores got tangled up. That's when the seniors made a shocking comeback. They ended up winning the game by one person. "It was a very intense moment because I thought we were going to lose," said Senior Rachel Brown after the game.

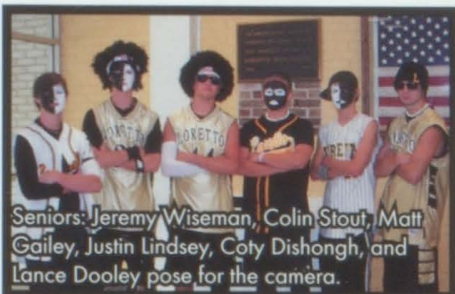

Freshman, Jake Clift got to lead the the Home coming parade for winning the Mustang Mobile contest.

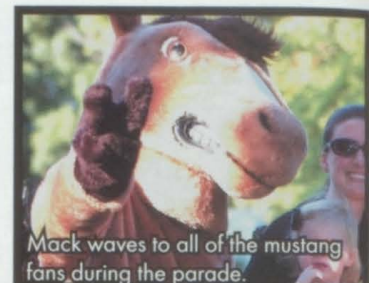

The junior float shows itself off in the Homecoming parade before the announcement of its victory as first place.

Mack waves to all of the mustang fans during the parade.

Being in the parade was so much fun! I liked throwing out all of the candy to the people watching.

Tyanaisha Campbell
freshman

It was thrilling! All the wind in my hair, and getting to wave at all the people, I felt like a movie star!

Anna Bass
junior

Riding on the back of that car was most definitely the awesomest thing EVER!

Lindsey Kerstiens
sophomore

I loved Homecoming week. The parade was the best part. Especially when Andrew painted a huge hand on my face!

Chelsea Richardson
sophomore

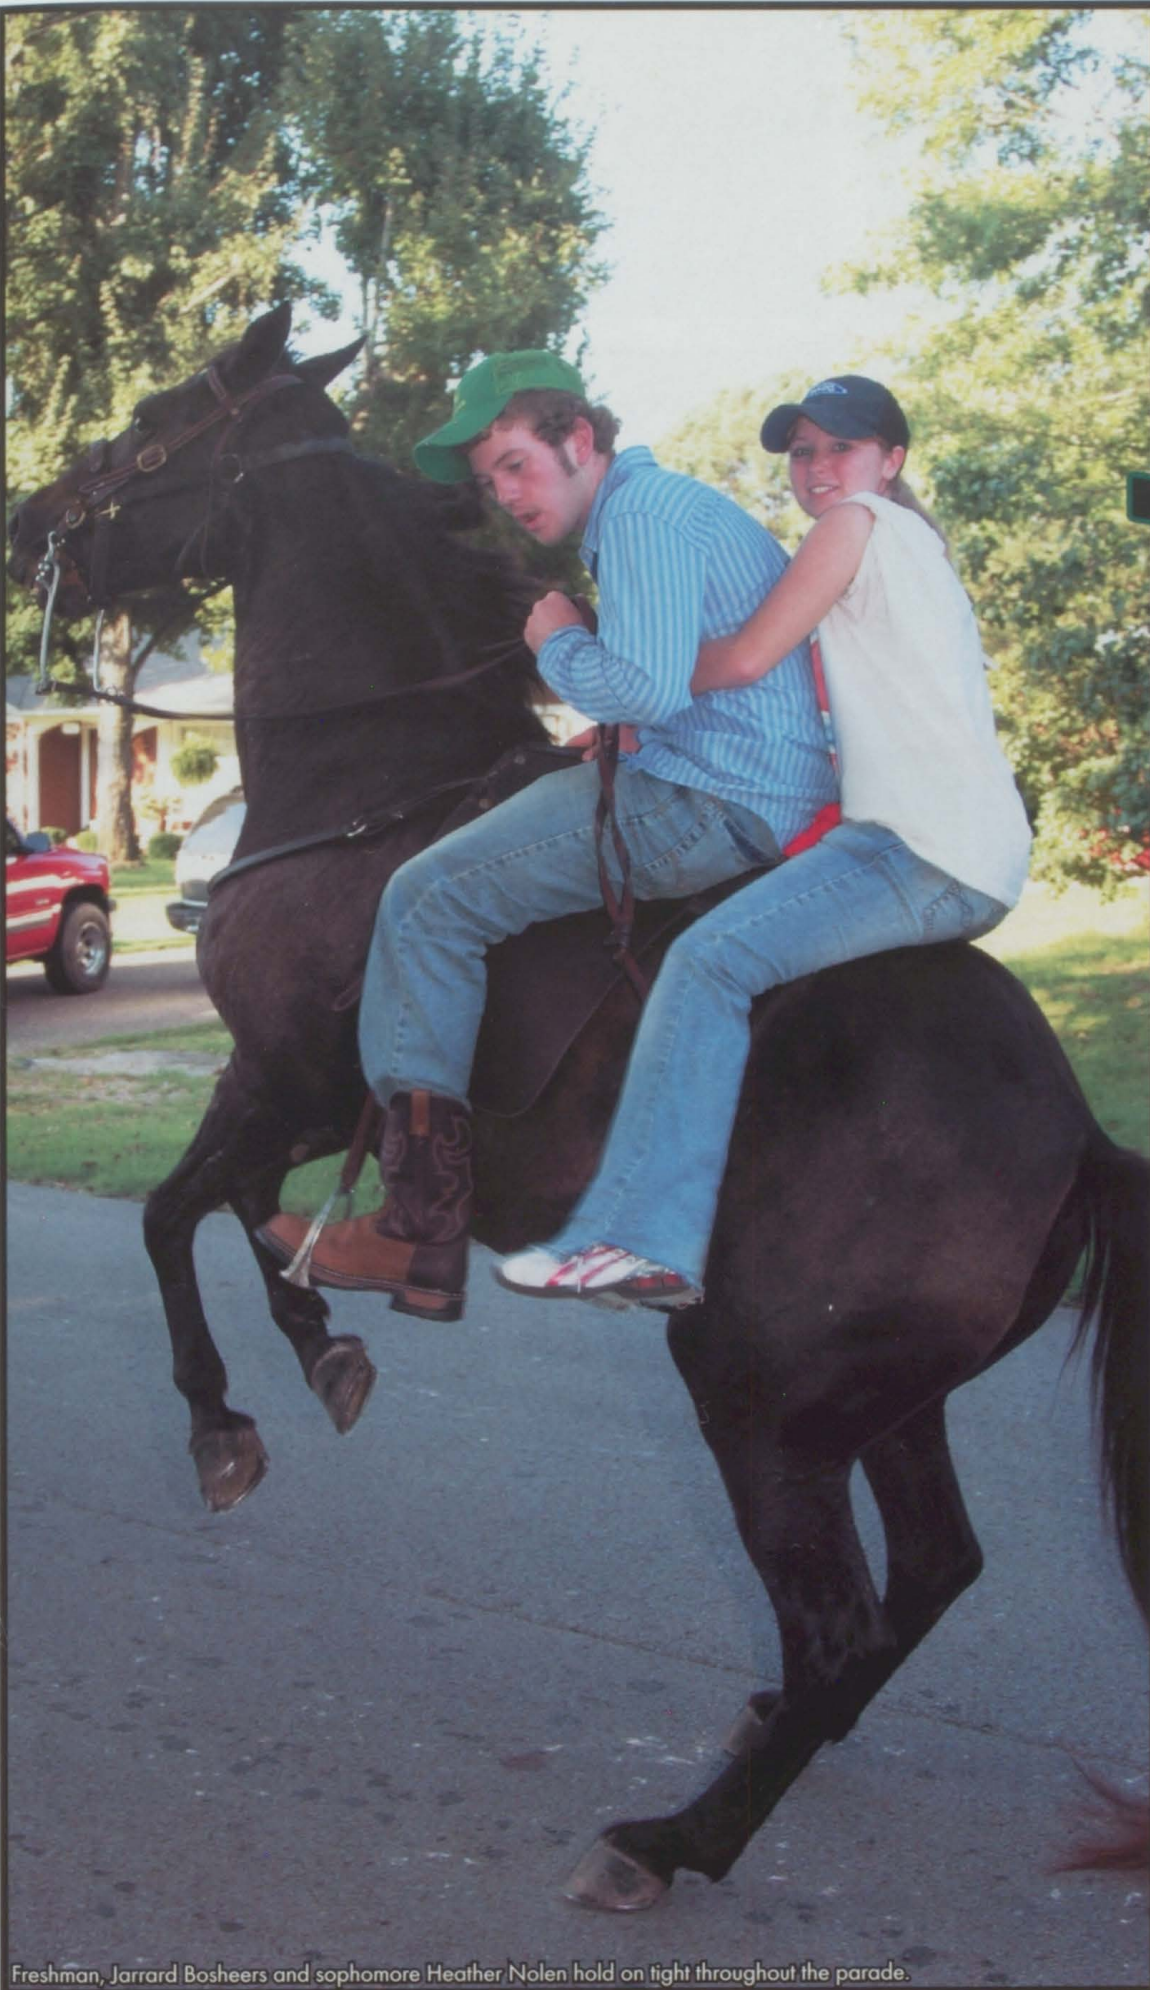

Junior FFA members, Jennifer Killen and Haley Quillen, ride in the parade representing their club.

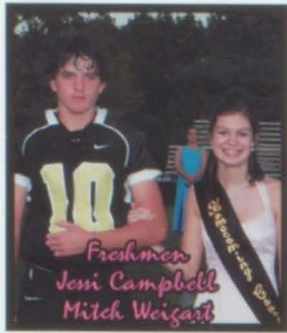

Finally, the day of homecoming arrives and the hallways are buzzing with excitement about the game. All the students are decked out in their black and white apparel, and many familiar faces are unrecognizable under layers of face paint. As each class is busily working to put the finishing touches on their parade floats, the football players are resting up to save all their energy for game time. With all the anxiety concerning the game, it was quite questionable how much rest the players would actually be getting. When asked if he was nervous about the game, senior Cody Cozart calmly said, "No I wasn't nervous about it. I wasn't nervous about any of the games." Before the school day ended, the annual scavenger hunt was held, and the seniors saw yet another victory making their record 5 for 5. Although the seniors were ahead in spirit points at first, the juniors gained victory by winning the float contest. All in all, homecoming week was a huge success.

Jamie Smith
Keith Sandlin

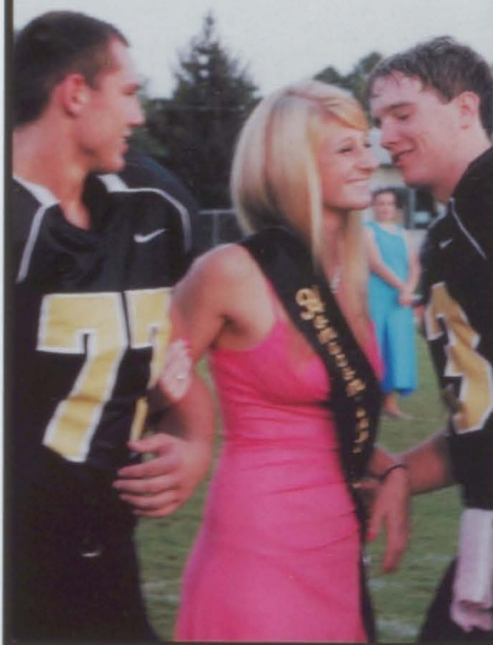

I was really excited to be part of the court this year. It is a memory that will last a lifetime.

Kayla Noblit
Clint Wooten

I enjoyed dressing up, but I wish the weather wouldn't have been so hot because I sweated like a cow!

Confident he can do better, Bryan Tankersley watches as Bryce Glas delivers the ceremonial kiss to Megan Shultz.

Elizabeth Paden looks flawless as a porcelain doll while posing for a picture.

The bunny a.k.a Courtney Welden, snuggles up with Hugh Hefner (Austin Brass) for a quick shot in the lunch room.

The mmm, mmm goodness of Campbell's Soup (Lindsey Kerstiens) is hard for Katherine Hardiman to resist.

James Gray (The Wolf) sees his prey Shawna Wiggins (Little Red Riding Hood)

He approaches her unseen from behind the tree.

And finally shows his face as he makes his final move for the kill!

I love any kind of doll, and my mother gave me the idea.

We didn't really know what to wear, so we just wore what we could find.

Olivia Price, Senior

I thought the mask was funny and looked like an old man.

I decided to wear an indian outfit to show my indian heritage.

Jake Clifft, Freshman

Trish Rogers, Lunch Staff

Junior Ashley George busts a move in her 2008 version of the flapper dress.

The spooks are out in the hallways running wild, causing terror behind every door. Although trick or treating is associated with kids, many students at Loretto High still dress up to go door to door for that delicious candy. Senior Katherine Hardiman shared her philosophy, "Of course I still go trick or treating. You would have to be stupid to pass up free candy." Students everywhere were eager to show off their personalities through their original costumes and so were some of the faculty. What might have been a terrifying day for the rest of the world was just another day for Loretto High School students to show off their school spirit and creativity. It did not matter on that day if you were a grumpy old man or a 20's flapper, dressing up was a fun filled event that made everyone either laugh or cry.

Womanless beauty pageant

Junior Tik Tang refuses to reveal all of his beauty secrets.

Smiling at his fans, freshman Aurelio Ramirez prances down the catwalk.

Looking a little perturbed, Channing Gulley appears to be camera shy.

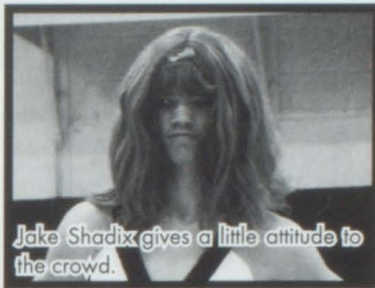

Micah King blows a kiss to all his adoring fans.

Jake Cliff is cute all dolled up and ready to go.

Jake Shadix gives a little attitude to the crowd.

Just getting to be in it was exciting for me.

Eric Norwood, FR

I liked all of the attention from the girls in first period.

Tyler Dollar, SR

It's the one day of the year that I get to dress like a girl!

Andrew Kerstiens, SO

I enjoyed getting all dolled up and being girly.

Dylan Gillespie, JR

Doing whatever it takes, Taylor Gillespie strikes a pose for the judges.

The lovely "ladies" who participated in the womanless beauty pageant were sugar and spice and everything nice. Although it took quite a while for the contestants to get ready for the event, their sense of style impressed both the judges and fans. When asked how it felt to be a woman Taylor Gillespie said, "It was a great feeling." Once the event began, the contestants pranced down the catwalk batting their eyelashes and blowing kisses as the crowd went wild. When asked who was the best dressed, Channing Gulley said, "Tik was the best dressed because he looked like a girl but not one that I would date." These unique displays of poise and beauty caused our judges much difficulty as they tried to decide who would wear the coveted crown. In the end, Andrew Kerstiens was chosen winner.

The best part of the play was gettin' jiggy wit' it backstage.

Katherine Hardiman, Sr.
"Abby Brewster"

It was really fun being an old lady except for the smell of the liquid latex.

Kayla Noblit, Senior
"Martha Brewster"

It was more fun watching Austin than acting in the play.

Ian Crain, Junior
"Dr. Einstein"

I thought I made the play funny. It's hard to keep in character while acting in front of my friends.

Austin Brass, Junior
"Jonathon Brewster"

Abby and Martha Brewster contemplate how Teddy will bury the "yellow fever" victims.

This classic comedy follows a very unusual upper class family, the Brewsters. Mortimer Brewster (Taylor Hartsfield) thinks his life is going great with his new girlfriend Elaine Harper (Samantha Hathaway), who along with her father, the Rev. Harper (Atticus Wright), live across the street from Mortimer's two "sweet, old" aunts Martha (Kayla Noblit) and Abby (Katherine Hardiman). The only crazy thing, it seems, in Mortimer's life is his brother Teddy (Channing Gulley), who happens to believe himself to be Theodore Roosevelt. The first plot twist comes when Mortimer's long lost brother, Jonathan (Austin Brass), escapes from the mental hospital with his plastic surgeon, Dr. Einstein (Ian Crain). Mortimer is put into a spin by his murderous brother, but soon learns that Jonathan is not the only murderer in the house. The mayhem is carried on by a great supporting cast as Mr. Gibbs (Jacob Shelton), Officer Brophy (Josh Marks), Officer Klein (Becky Bivens), Officer O'Hara (Katelyn Sewell), Lieutenant Rooney (Holly Parris), and Dr. Witherspoon (Katelyn Moore) make hilarious entrances throughout the second half of the play.

Katelyn Sewell takes out her frustration on Mr. Weaver after the play. Don't worry Weaver, she wouldn't really hurt you.

The cast takes time to pose for a group photo.

Holly Parris, who plays Lieutenant Rooney, gets ready for the performance.

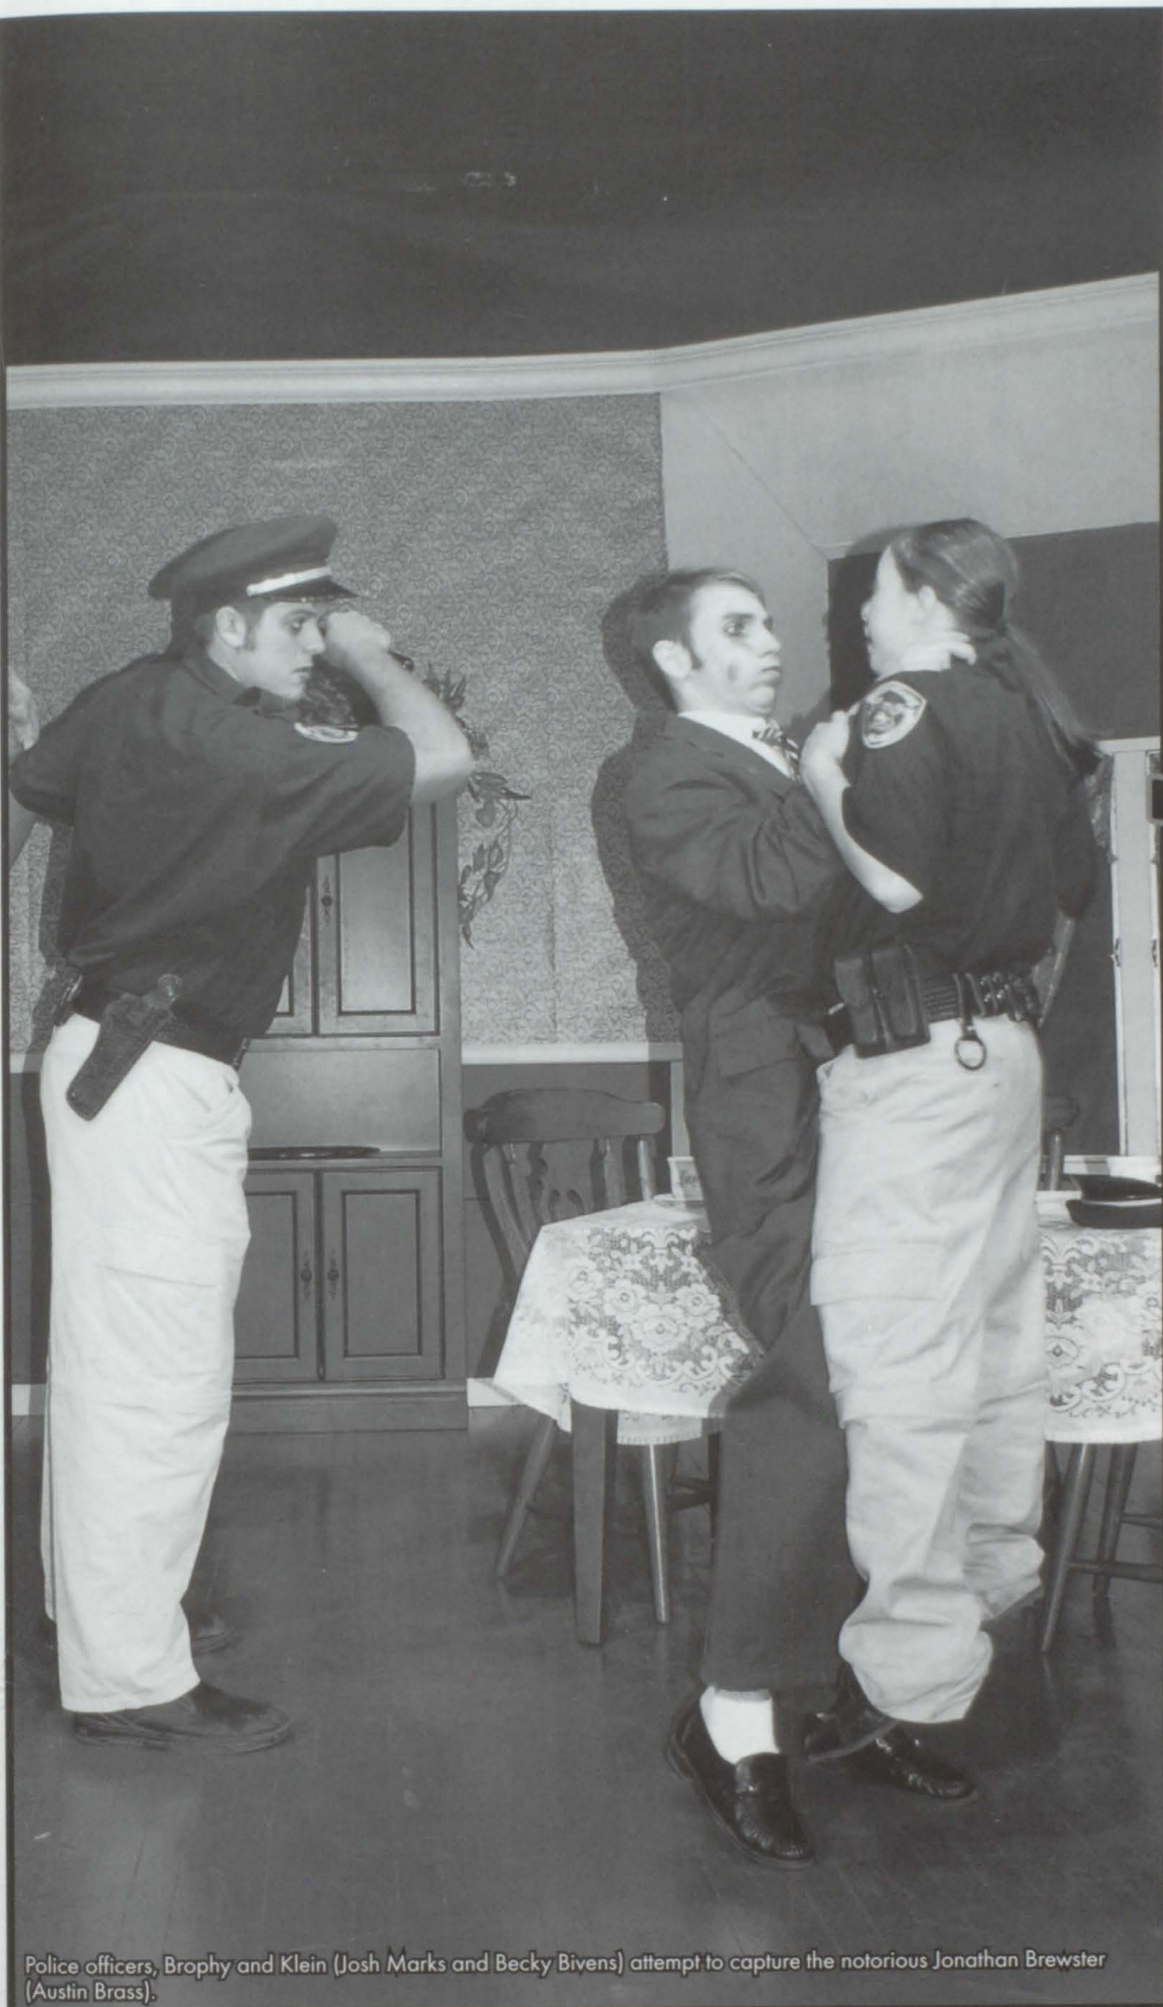

The Brewster family makes Happy Dale their official new home with the signature of the "doctor", Dr. Einstein.

Mortimer tries to save the oblivious Mr. Gibbs from the Brewster sisters' poison.

All the Way to State

Coming off of a good season last year, the golf team was poised and ready for a successful season. The team put up excellent stats all year putting up a winning season and becoming district season champions. Their success didn't stop there as they travelled to the district tournament. The guys came out on top in district play and were seeded first in regionals. At regionals, they dominated play and came out as champions. For the first time ever, the boy's golf team was on its way to the state tournament, a milestone for the golf team. The guys had delivered the goods all season long and were confident they could keep it up during the state tournament. Senior Coty Dishongh said, "We had a really good season and had won both district and regional; so we were pretty confident we could do well at state." Unfortunately, the team didn't play its best golf when it counted and came up short at the state tournament. With the loss of only one senior, the team is eager to get a second chance next year.

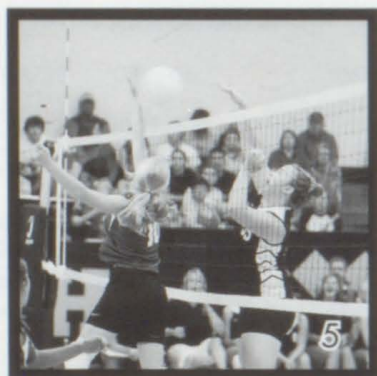

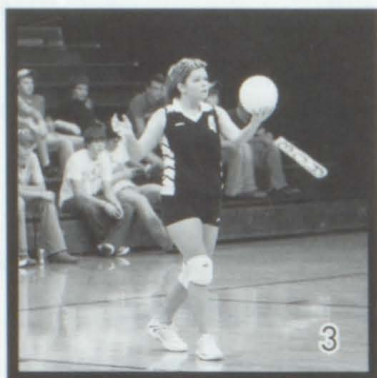

1. Taking his best swing, Josh Purser tees off at Clax Branch. 2. Joel Conway lines up the perfect putt. 3. Concentrating on sinking the putt, Miles Franklin plans his strategy. 4. Junior Taylor Springer gets ready on the putting green. 5. A cool Coty Dishongh takes time out to think about the match. 6. The Regional Champs pose for a picture with Coach Brandon Weaver. 7. In honor of the moment, team members pose with Coty Dishongh as he signs with Martin Methodist.

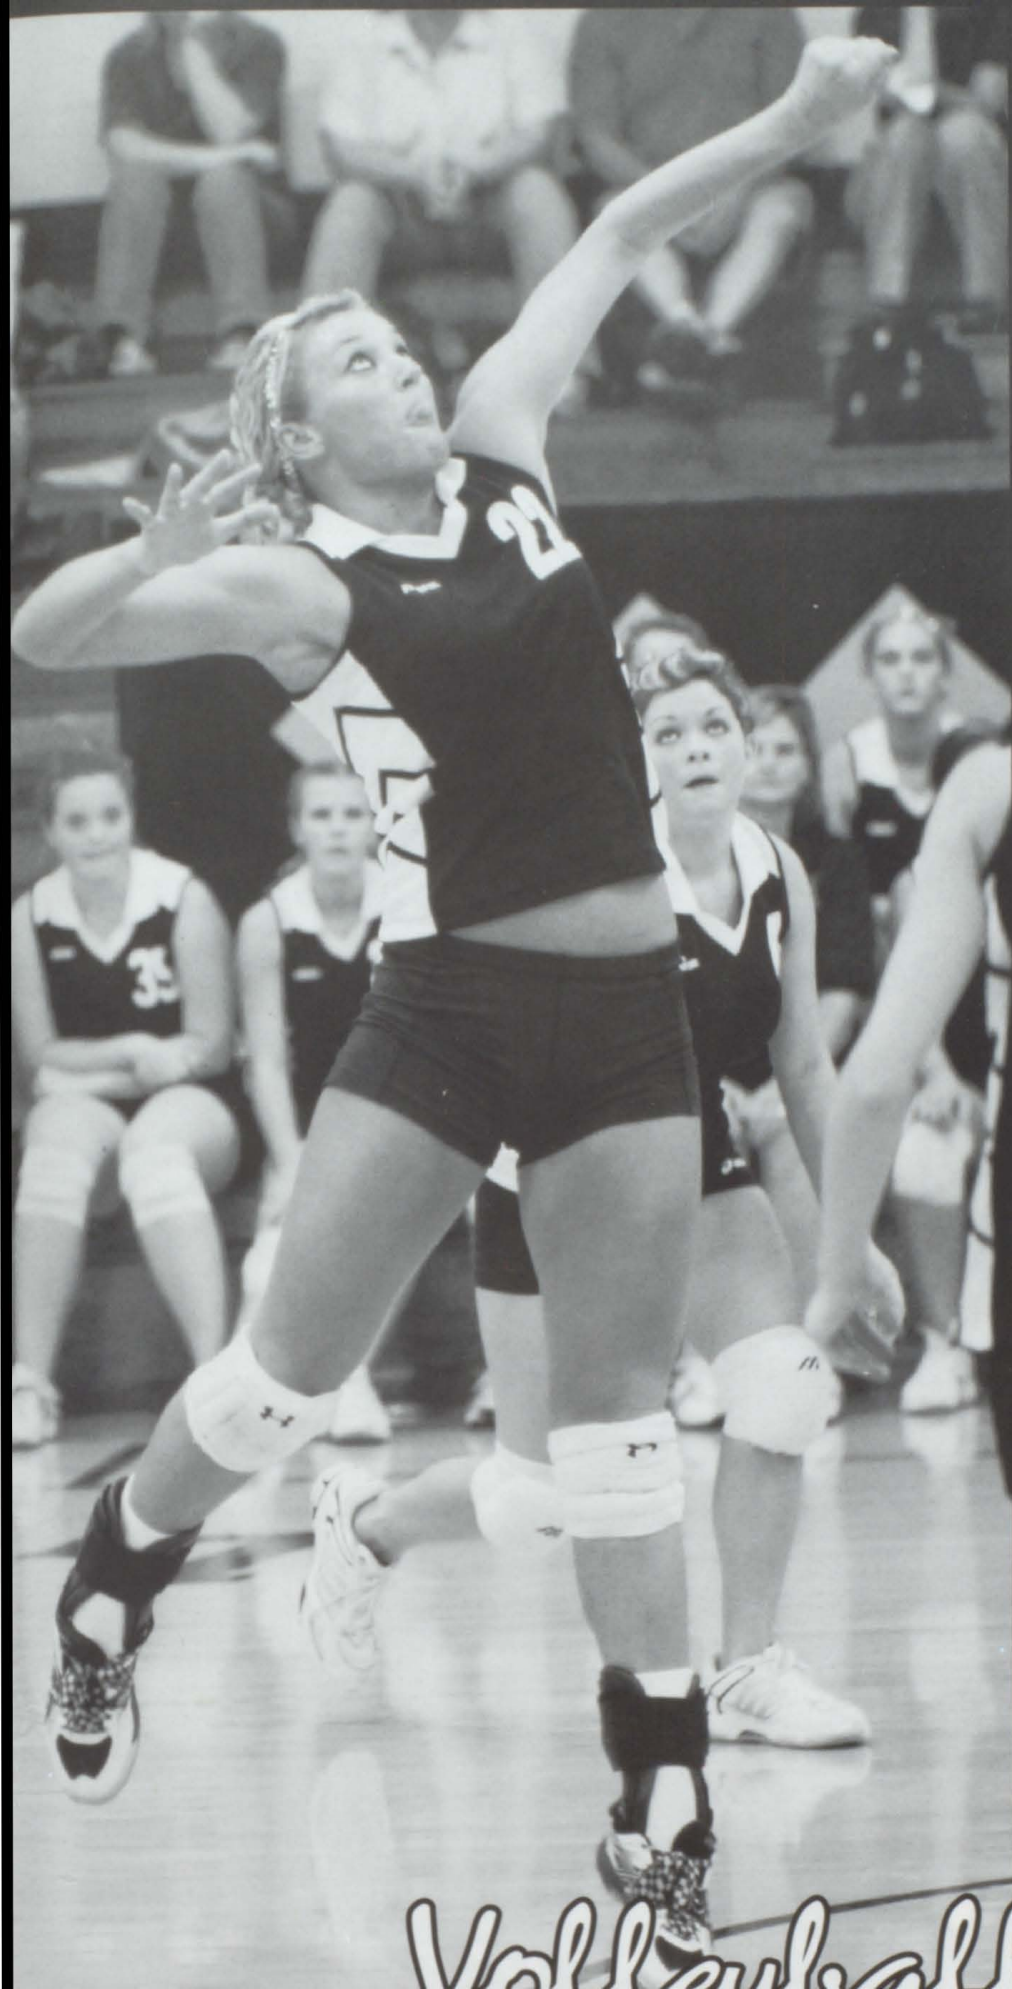

You Got Served

The Loretto Lady Mustangs 2008-2009 volleyball season was a great season, said junior, Kinsley Williams, we face some hard games but managed to pull through and win. The Lady Mustangs Volleyball team only got beat by one team during regular season district play. Summertown, one of the toughest teams in the district, beat our girls twice during their season. But each match was very close. During the district tournament finals, the girls faced the Eagles again, but this time they pushed through and defeated them four games to five to become District Champions. Kinsley Williams was the MVP of the tournament, and teammates Caroline Ezell and Amber Vansant made all district. The team placed second in the region just behind Page. Kinsley Williams and Caroline Ezell made it to the all region team. The ladies ended their season by being defeated in the sub-state tournament.

1. Kinsley Williams goes up for the spike. 2. Amber Vansandt bumps one up to the setter to keep the ball in play. 3. Hoping for an ace, Melissa Quillen gets ready to serve. 4. Reaching up high, Julia Jacobs goes for the block. 5. The opposing player tries to push the ball over as Megan Jacobs attempts to block. 6. The team huddles up to hear Coach Dee Dee Brown's strategy. 7. Some of the team members show their funny side while waiting on the game.

Girl's Soccer

Just Kick It

The season for the Lady Mustangs went much as expected. As usual, the girls conquered Waynesboro and held their ground against everyone but Columbia Academy. They knew that C.A. was a great team but that did not stop the girls from giving their best effort. They played hard all season and made it to the district tournament. Unfortunately, they were defeated by Richland in the first round which surprised the team because they believed they would pull out a victory. Many tears were shed, but the girls kept their heads high knowing that they had given their best effort.

The season ended with the senior awards night where best defense went to Kati Wilburn and best offense went to Leanne Neel, and Riley Watson earned the MVP award. Senior team leader Kayla Noblit said, "The season went fast, but it will definately be the one that I remember most."

1. Leanne Neel carries the ball down the field. 2. Tiffany Alvarado battles with an opposing player. 3. As teammate Magan Shults follows, Ashley Keener gets ahead of the defenders. 4. Kady Nash gets ready to take the ball down field. 5. Getting ready to make her move, Magan Shults rushes to get the ball before the other team scores. 6. The team gathers at the end of the game to enjoy their win. 7. Showing some smooth moves, Kayla Noblit steals the ball from the opposition.

Champs in our Hearts

With a new year came a new coach and a fresh hope for the 2008 football season. The new Mustangs coach, Jason Busby, worked hard to condition the team and keep the boys' spirits high. They practiced intensely and worked together to make the team strong. Although the Mustangs finished the season with an 0-10 record, they worked hard and did their best to have fun and make the season memorable. "The thing I'll miss the most is being able to put on the pads and listen to the death music with Tank (Bryan Tankersley, Sr.) to get pumped for the game," said senior Clint Wooten. The team is also still confident about next year's team. "I am really looking forward to a winning season as a senior," said junior Jake Buttrum. "Our determination during the off season will decide the outcome of next season," said sophomore Will Gieske. Even though the Mustangs will always be champs in our hearts, they will keep working hard and continue to push themselves until victory comes.

1. Senior, Cody Cozart moves the ball down field for a first down. 2. Running away from the defense, junior Matt Weigart strives for a Mustang touchdown. 3. Scrambling away from the defense, junior Ethan Stepp tries to prevent a sack. 4. Junior, Dylan Gillespie prepares to block during kick return. 5. Senior, Micheal Staggs throws the football down field in a trick play. 6. The boys watch the action waiting on their turn in the game. 7. Junior, Channing Gulley comes to the sideline to take a quick break before returning to the game.

This Note's for You

The Marching Mustangs had a successful 2008-2009 school year. This year's half-time performance was entitled "Disney Favorites" and included songs from Disney's The Little Mermaid, Cinderella, Beauty and the Beast, and others. They attended competitions in Murfreesboro, Greenhill, and Winfield where both the band and colorguard received excellent ratings. Later in the year, several students had the opportunity to perform with the UT Martin, MTSU and UNA honor bands. All students played well and were in the top among their sections. This was also the first year for the Winterguard; their show was titled I Love the 80's. They performed at several home basketball games and attended the LCHS Friends and Family night. The band closed the year with their final concert at Swing into Spring at the Crockett Theater. They want to thank everyone who had a part in their success.

1. Sophomore Kelby Gerhart plays during half time. 2. Sophomore Colleen Vess loves plays the flute during the halftime show. 3. Showing that hard work pays off, drum major, Janie Marshall leads the half time show. 4. Concentrating on her performance, Nichole Griggs plays with the award winning drum line. 5. Janie Marshal Leads the band onto the field as they begin to play. 6. The Marching Mustangs perform Disney Favorites during a home football game.

Cheerleading

Steppin' it Up

Cheerleaders are known for their team spirit. This year was no different. Following tryouts in April, the cheer squad began working hard all summer for a new season of football and basketball. Each new cheer and dance had one common goal: to be even better than the last. Which meant a lot more patience and creativity was needed. Coming along side of the four seniors was new head coach, Trish Moore. "She came in with a good attitude to help us become our best. It was tough teaching complicated dances to girls without much cheer experience, but with the help of Mrs. Moore this task became a little more bearable," said senior Kaitlyn Sewell. The cheerleaders' hardwork paid off in encouraging team spirit throughout the year; however, at times it proved to be a challenge to motivate the student body to join in. By the end of the year, new friendships had developed and lasting memories were made for the Mustang cheerleaders.

All the couples rush to the middle of the dance floor to make sure they do not miss a chance to slow dance with their partner. Senior, Justin Short shows his approval with a thumbs up.

Letting their tired feet have a break seniors Katherine Hardiman, Tori Beckman, Rachel McKissack, and Heather Dunkin lose their high heels.

My favorite moment was when Jaco was screaming the lyrics to "Purple Rain" while we were dancing; I laughed so hard!

Enjoying their senior Winter Formal, Elizabeth Simbeck and Keith Sandlin share a final dance together.

A girl's first formal dance can be an exciting and a nerve racking experience. Every year many girls get their first thrill from the Winter Formal. Along with the actual dance come many hard decisions and a huge list of things to do. Thoughts like whether or not to wear her first daring dress or to wear three-inch heels she can barely walk in flood her mind. The curiosity of who she'll be sharing her first slow dance with rises as she thinks about the possibilities of her date. The preparation for the big evening takes hours out of the day. It is 4:30 and her date and family anxiously await her to come down the stairs. Everything she has been waiting for is revealed in the look on her mother's face and the glimmer in her father's eye as she comes down. Her mother snaps a thousand pictures of the pinning on of corsages, the opening of the car door, and just simple poses as her father gives them the traditional goodbye, good luck, and don't be late speech. As she climbs in his car, and he pulls out of the driveway she knows it is a moment that she will never forget.

"Crescent, The Mastermind"

Shane Littrell

What gave you the idea to make these videos?

"We wanted to make people laugh and enjoy life, so we decided these videos would be a good way to do that."

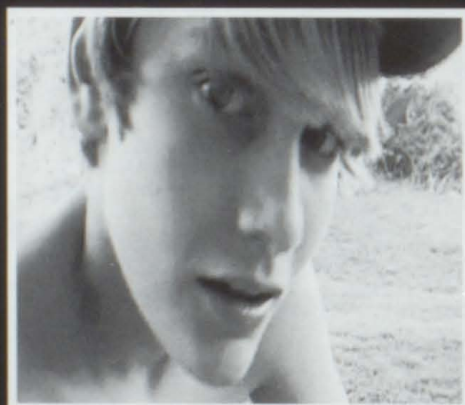

"Allen, The Funny Man"

Tyler Newton

Which video was the funnest to make and why?

"The asphalt surfing - because I hit a pot hole and went flying through the air...I still have a scar on my knee."

"Torque, The Short One"

Jamie Norwood

How do you come up with your stories?

"We don't come up with them, every story we tell is true and really happened to us."

The Wrench Brothers

The Wrench Brothers, Shane Littrell, Jamie Norwood, and Tyler Newton are three down-home, country boys with only one goal in mind; make you laugh until you pee your pants! In these videos, Tyler Newton plays the part of Allen Wrench, Shane Littrell plays Crescent Wrench, and Jamie Norwood plays Torque Wrench. The idea for the Wrench Brother videos was created by Shane Littrell & Tyler Newton in October 2008. Jamie came along in the second movie made in January 2009. They were just looking for something to do and thought, "Why not make a huntin' video?" They never expected the videos to go very far, but boy were they wrong! Since then, they have made four movies. Students quote lines from the movies, and a few teachers have previewed the films in class. Countless copies of the movies have been sold, and KIX 96 Radio Station in Muscle Shoals has interviewed Shane & Jamie. People from all over the world have laughed there heads off by watching them on YouTube!

The only goal & purpose for these films is to make people have a more enjoyable life. Life is hard enough as it is without being hateful & sullen all the time. To some people these movies are just dumb & pointless, but they serve a purpose. They're intended to make people forget about their troubles for just a few minutes, relax, and laugh a little bit. The Wrench Brothers act crazy in order to make people happy. In the Bible, Solomon, the wisest man to ever live, said this in Ecclesiastes 2:24, "There is nothing better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God." It is a commandment from God Almighty to live our lives to the fullest & to enjoy life as much as possible, while living in obedience to Him daily. The Wrench Brothers have a strong faith in God & only wish to do His will. Jesus said, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father, which is in Heaven." It has been said that laughter is the best medicine there is. Well, if that's true, then the Wrench Brothers are doctors!

*S*ometimes life can seem like a big jumbled mess. Part of growing up is changing. Sometimes these changes are good and sometimes they are bad. Whether your girlfriend decides she doesn't want to be with you anymore, or your best friends decide they want to start partying all the time, change is a constant theme during high school. Although life isn't as easy to figure out as an I SPY game, we could all use the practice, so try it out.

The 2008-2009 proved to be a great year for the Lady Mustangs. As the only senior, Heather Dunkin did her best to lead the team both on and off the court. The hard-working girls began their practices in the summer and continued throughout the lengthy season.

Though they struggled at times, the team always gave the fans something to cheer about. The home game against number one ranked Marshall County was an overtime nail-biter that many fans will never forget. Even though the Lady Mustangs could not pull out the upset, they proved that they had the talent to play with the best. This game boosted their confidence and gave them fuel to finish the season.

The ladies fought through many ups and downs throughout their season of play and ended with a winning season. Under the leadership of Coach Greg Tipps, they finished the season with seventeen wins and fourteen losses. The ladies finished third in the post season district tournament but were defeated in the first round of regional play.

1. Heather Dunkin concentrates on making her free throws. 2. Preparing for the rebound, Abby Laws watches blocks out her opponent. 3. An intense Becca Curtis dribbles down the court. 4. With great effort, Elizabeth Hemmen goes up for the shot. 5. Getting an elbow into her opponent, Kinsley Williams gets ready to take the shot down low. 6. Coach Greg Tipps gives the girls a pep talk. 7. The team gets ready to take the court.

Stompin' the Cats

The boys basketball team works year round to become better. The boys might not have won the State Tournament, but they did win one of the biggest games in five years. On December 2 the Mustangs gained their first win, in five years, against our long-time rivals, the Lawrence County Wildcats. The game started out pretty even, and the score went back-and-forth. After half time the game really started heating up; the spirit elevated as joyful students cheered in the stands and mournful wildcats watched hopelessly as the Mustangs took over the game. "Watching the guys beat Lawrenceburg was one of the best times I have had in high school," said junior Brittany Bennett. With a final score of 61 to 54 students from the, the once full student section poured onto the floor. Senior DJ Smith said, "It was an amazing experience to be at Lawrenceburg for the first time in 5 years." The boys played hard to finish out the season with a good record, but the one score everyone remembers is 61-54.

1. Senior, Matt Gailey takes a jump shot for an easy two points. 2. Shooting the ball, senior Brady Kimbrell goes for three. 3. Trying to push his way under the goal, senior Lance Dooley does not give up. 4. Shooting over a defender, senior Josh Marks takes the ball up for a basket. 5. Blocking out the opponents, senior Colin Stout is ready to grab the rebound. 6. Coach Boston and Rochester give out the game plan during the time out. 7. Senior, DJ Smith drives the ball down the court for a lay-up...and one foul shot.

Spring is the end of the end of cold winter weather, the end of high school for seniors, and the end of the school year. Warm weather begins, and the beautiful flowers start to bloom. We bid farewell to the seniors as they graduate and take their first steps into adulthood. Students look forward to that last exam and that final goodbye of the year as they open the doors to summer jobs, vacations, and good times with friends.

Playing dirty, senior Kati Wilburn sticks her leg out to trip sophomore Riley Watson.

Students, excited to be out of class, piled into the gym to see just how competitive the class tournaments would be. The first game, between the Junior girls and the Freshman girls, ended with a victory for the juniors. Following that game, the senior boys thought they had what it took to defeat the sophomore boys. However, the seniors did not have much luck at winning the game. The next week, the senior girls and sophomore girls went to battle. Like their male classmates, the senior girls handed their over their chances at bragging rights. In the class finals, the sophomore girls and junior boys were victorious and were ready to play the faculty. In the much anticipated faculty vs. student game, the faculty proceeded to show the sophomore girls who was boss, and the faculty men pulled out a two point victory over the juniors.

Vagrants Haley Williams and Lisa Howell battle for the park bench.

Bubbie (Katherine Hardiman) and Isabelle (Heather Compton) meet with master matchmaker, Hannah (Amber Hughes).

In this upbeat romantic comedy, set in New York City, we are introduced to a woman named Isabelle (Heather Compton) whose life revolves around Book Ends, the bookstore where she works, and her grandmother, Bubbie (Katherine Hardiman) who is less than impressed by her granddaughter's love life. Bubbie decides to invest in a traditional Jewish matchmaker, Hannah (Amber Hughes), to help Isabelle find the love of her life. Hannah finds Sam (Atticus Wright), a simple pickle-maker, who immediately falls for Isabelle. The only problem is that Isabelle has already met the love of her life an arrogant local author named Tyler Moss (Matt Campbell) or so she thinks...

PROM 2009

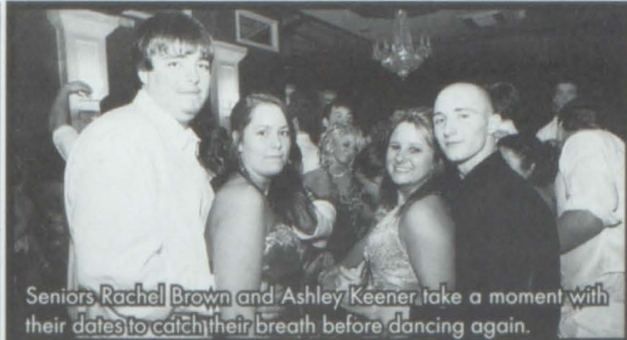

here's to the night we felt alive

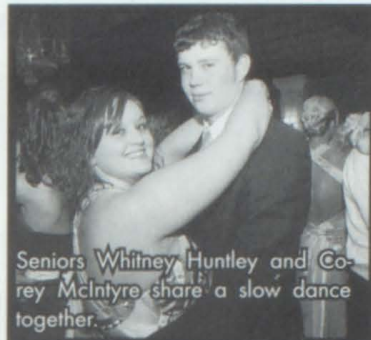

Students always enjoy doing the YMCA at Prom. The song has a weird capability of allowing everyone to crack out of their shy shells.

Chelsey Ferguson, senior, is escorted by her date into Providence Hall.

Seniors Rachel Brown and Ashley Keener take a moment with their dates to catch their breath before dancing again.

Seniors Whitney Huntley and Corey McIntyre share a slow dance together.

Katherine Hardiman is having a rock out time.

Senior Eric Frank break dances for his spectators.

My most embarrassing moment at prom was when I tried to dance to the "Cha Cha Slide."
-Colton

My friends are crazy, they all crowded around me and danced up on me. It was so embarrassing!

I have to say prom was amazing! The teachers watching us dance was kind of awkward though.
-Brooke

My date had a boyfriend, and he showed up with another girl at prom. Tell me that isn't awkward!

Ariel Rohling and Lisa Howell bust some moves on the dance floor.

Pink or blue? Poofy or straight? Heels or flats? Hair, up or down? These are questions that run through the minds of most girls before prom. The guys wonder how much everything will cost or if their cars will be clean enough. Teachers, especially senior sponsor Amy Jarnigan, have other situations on their minds. Deciding on a theme and meeting a budget are first and foremost in their thoughts. Senior sponsor Ms. Jarnigan wanted the planning process to be a little easier this year which resulted in reserving Providence Hall for our "Here's to the Night" dance. Everyone was excited about the change and about being the first class to hold prom at an off campus location. Students arrived and were amazed by the beautiful chandeliers and classy atmosphere. When all was said and done this year's prom went off without a hitch and both teachers and students were pleased with the decision to move the dance off campus.

Ups and Downs

Soccer is still a fairly new sport here, and as each year progresses the team fights to overcome some of its growing pains. With little student support, the team continues to trudge ahead in hopes of a successful season. The team had a change of leadership this year and welcomed new coach Brian Tucker. Under his guidance, the team ended its season with one win, one tie, and eight losses. "This year had its ups and downs, but hopefully next year we will have a better season." said junior Matt Campbell. With few graduating seniors, next year's outlook is positive. They will again be under new leadership, but with dedication and talent the team should pull out some wins.

1. Using his head, Matt Campbell gets control of the ball. 2. Tanner Looney makes his way down field as he is pursued by two defenders. 3. Playing keep away, Taylor Springer tries to maintain possession of the ball. 4. Making his move, Jordan Lee attempts to steal the ball from the opposition. 5. Goalie Ross Blair kicks the ball down field. 6. Getting down and dirty with the Wildcats, Chance Mattox does anything to get to the ball. 7. Sophomore Joel Conway turns the ball around as he is pursued.

softball

Hit, Run, Slide

With great effort and a lot of talent, the Lady Mustang softball team put another great season under its belt. Coming off of a tremendous season last year, the ladies were wondered if they would be state tournament bound again.

They came out of the regular season as district champs, losing only two games to Marshall County. However, in district tournament play, when everything was on the line, the team was able to pull together and defeat the Tigers. This team effort allowed the ladies to proclaim themselves district tournament champs once again. They were on their way and feeling confident about regionals. Facing Ezell-Harding proved a difficult task for the Lady Mustangs as they were defeated in the first round of the region tournament.

Coach Weeks and his team are confident about next year. Junior Caroline Ezell said, "I think next year will be the best yet. I hope we can make it to the state tournament again."

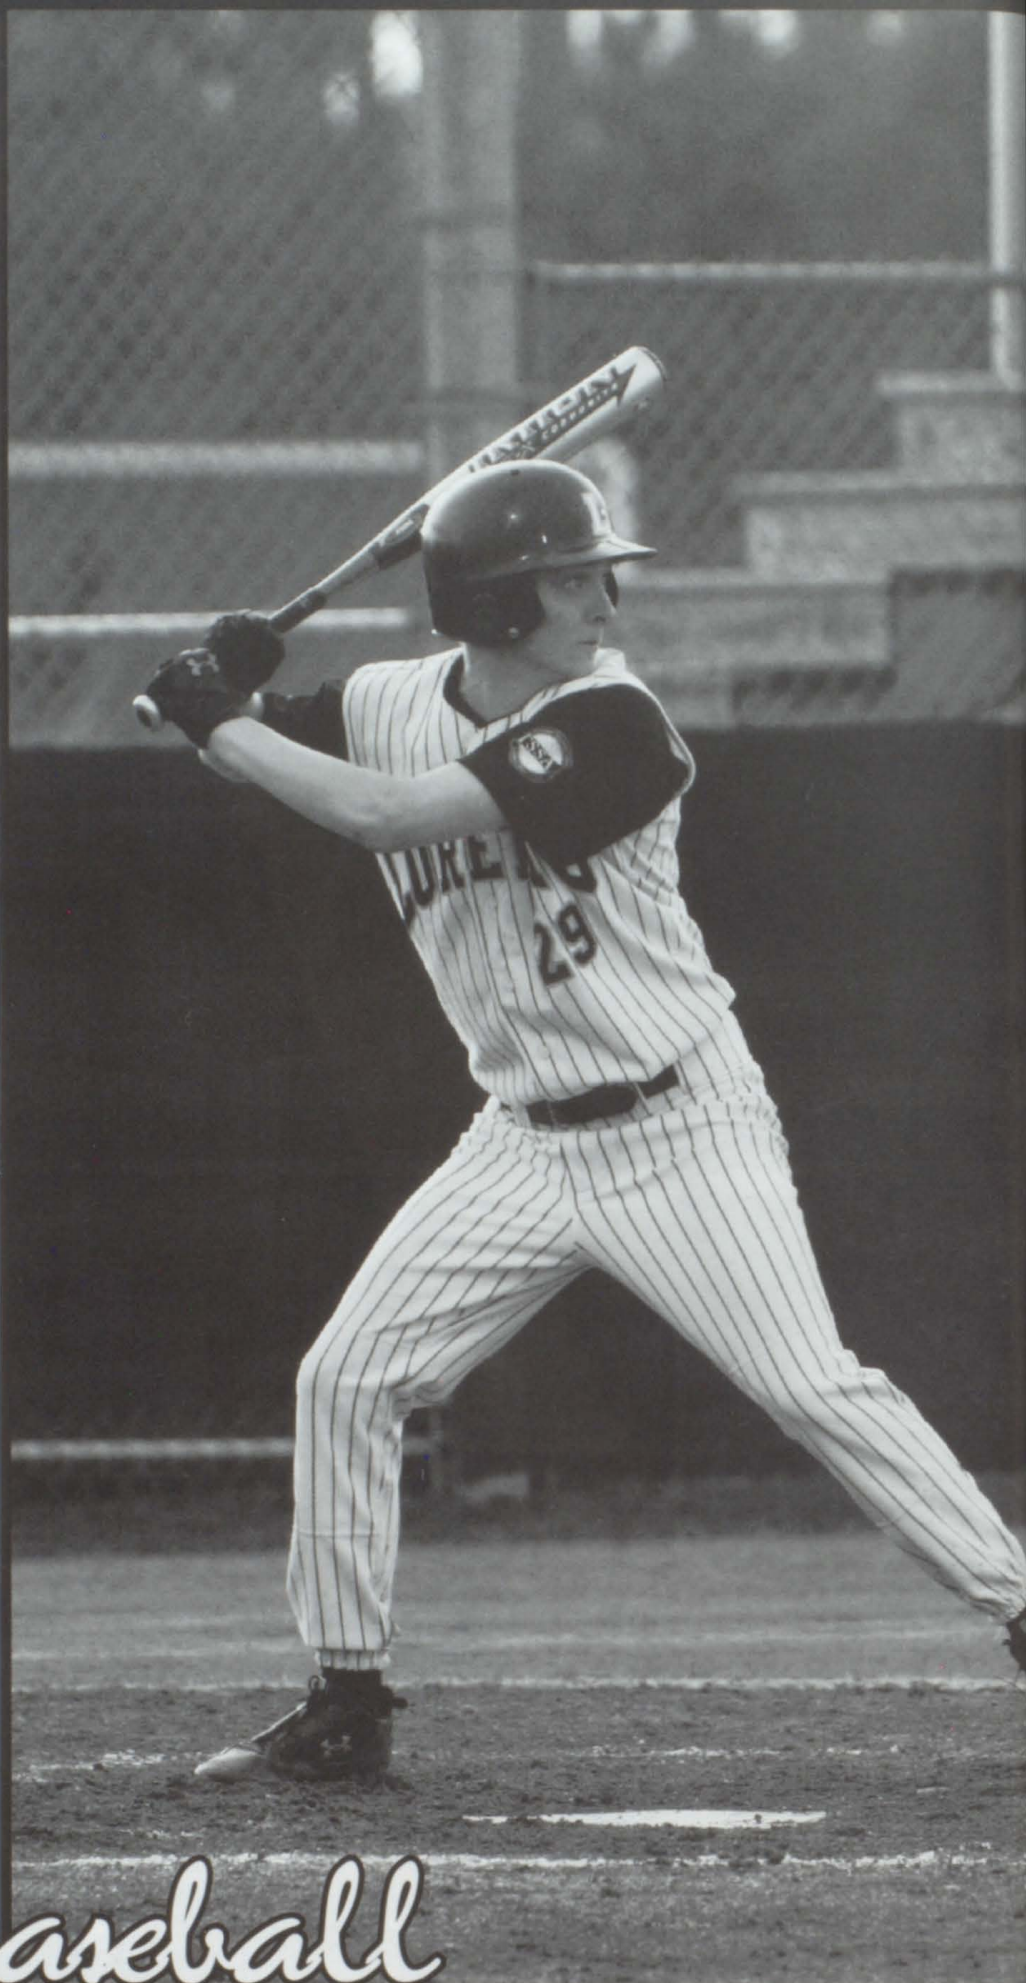

1. As the strike is called, Amber Vansandt throws the ball back to the pitcher. 2. Running for the ball, Julia Jacobs is ready to catch the fly ball. 3. Elizabeth Simbeck attempts to make contact with the ball. 4. Eyeing the batter, pitcher Caroline Ezell focuses on throwing some heat and getting a strike out. 5. Pinch runner Kayla Noblit gets some instructions from Coach J.T. Weeks. 6. Making the out, Stacey Gist tags the runner to get the easy out. 7. Senior Stephanie Urban throws to first to get the out.

baseball

Game On

The 2008 Mustang baseball team had a rough season. Their overall record was thirteen wins and eighteen losses. Though not short on talent, many injuries and the loss of some players, cut the team down from nineteen to fifteen players. "We had a good team this year, but we could have been better. We didn't have timely hitting and had many injuries at bad times," said Coach Gary Lamm. This year we had two players to make all district, leading pitcher Justin Lindsay and lead hitter Colton Simbeck. We are so proud of our team this year. Coach Gary Lamm is looking forward to next year.

1. Keeping his eye on the ball, Brady Kimbrel gets ready to hit the long ball. 2. Brady Kimbrel and Lance Dooley discuss their strategy before the game starts. 3. After a game, the team takes a moment for prayer. 4. Lance Dooley takes a dive for the ball. 5. After a strike, Jake Shaddix throws the ball back to the pitcher. 6. The baseball team poses for a photo. 7. Colton Simbeck throws the ball in for an out.
